ANNALS OF CLIFTON COLLEGE.

1862—1887.

IN the present year, 1887, on September 30, Clifton College will have completed its twenty-fifth year. It is time, therefore, for its annals to be written. We will not call the pages that shall follow a history, but simply annals. A history should sketch persons and characters, as well as narrate events and include documents; but it is happily too soon to write the biographies of those who have made Clifton College what it is. A history should moralize; it should describe the aims and the methods of the actors in the scenes it relates. Ours is a humbler task—to put before the Clifton boy, when he first enters, some account of the origin and growth of this School, which is to exercise so great an influence on his life; perhaps, here and there, to let him feel the vigour and the generosity of the past; and to inspire him with its high aims and the honourable traditions it has handed down as a sacred deposit.

Clifton College was founded in 1860, to meet an obvious need. Previous attempts had been made to establish such a School. A "Bristol College" had been opened in 1831, and closed at Christmas, 1841. It was under able management, and its career, though short, was a brilliant one. Among its distinguished scholars might be named Walter Bagehot, Professor Stokes, Sir Edward Fry, and many other eminent living Bristolians. A "Bishop's College" also had been opened in 1841, and occupied the buildings near the Drill Hall till 1851. It then ceased to exist, and for some years there was no public School for Clifton.

The annals of Clifton College begin with a private meeting, held on April 5, 1860, at 7, Gloucester Row, the house of Mr. H. S. Wasbrough, who is still an active member of the Council. There were present at that meeting some of those whose names we recognize as even now amongst the firmest friends of the College. The complete list shall here be given, as this is the actual fons et origo of the College. The Mayor of Bristol, John Bates, Esq. (in the chair); Major Savile, Dr. Black, Dr. Budd, Messrs. J. B. Burroughs, W. Gale Coles, Edward Daniel, J. McArthur, Joshua Saunders, Joseph Leech, George Cooke, O. C. Lane, H. B. Ford, Alfred Cox, F. N. Budd, John Colthurst, W. Cross, and H. S. Wasbrough.

We need not trace the various steps which had to be taken in order to form the "Clifton College Company, Limited." It will be sufficient to give the summary of these preliminary proceedings in the first Report of the Council to the shareholders, dated March, 1861.

FIRST REPORT—MARCH, 1861.

The proposal to establish a College at Clifton was first brought under public notice on May 16, 1860, when a meeting, convened by John Bates, Esq., the then Mayor of Bristol, was held at the Clifton Subscription-Rooms. At that meeting a Provisional Committee was appointed for the purpose of taking the preliminary steps for the establishment of the institution, and at the same time it was unanimously resolved that the capital necessary for carrying out the objects of the promoters should be raised under the Limited Liability Act. On the same day a prospectus was approved of, setting forth the intended formation of the Association and the general features of the proposed College.

In the month of July the prospects of the undertaking were such as to justify the Committee in considering the important question of a site, and, in order that due care and deliberation should be devoted to a step so materially affecting the future welfare and success of the institution, a sub-Committee was appointed for the purpose of collecting information on the subject.

Having considered several sites, the Committee finally reported in favour of one lying between Worcester Terrace and the Zoological Gardens, consisting of nine acres, the property of Mr. Adams, and about three acres adjoining, belonging to Mr. Haynes and his Trustees.

The Provisional Committee having satisfied themselves as to the possibility of purchasing the site recommended, on advantageous terms, a Council was appointed, the deed of Association prepared, and the Company duly incorporated on September 13, 1860.

Shortly after the incorporation of the Company a contract was entered into for the purchase of Mr. Adams's land, together with the Gardener's Arms, consisting of nine acres three roods fifteen perches, and of Mr. Haynes's land, consisting of two acres three roods twenty-three perches.

Access will be obtained to the College by two roads—one leading from Durdham Down towards Worcester Terrace, and the other from Pembroke Road to the Gardeners' Arms, —which are now in course of construction, and both will be opened by the time the College is opened. The necessary steps for diverting the pathway now intersecting the land have been taken.

These arrangements having been completed, an invitation was issued to the architects of Bristol to send in designs for a building for the College, the Company offering, at the same time, the sum of one hundred pounds in premiums.

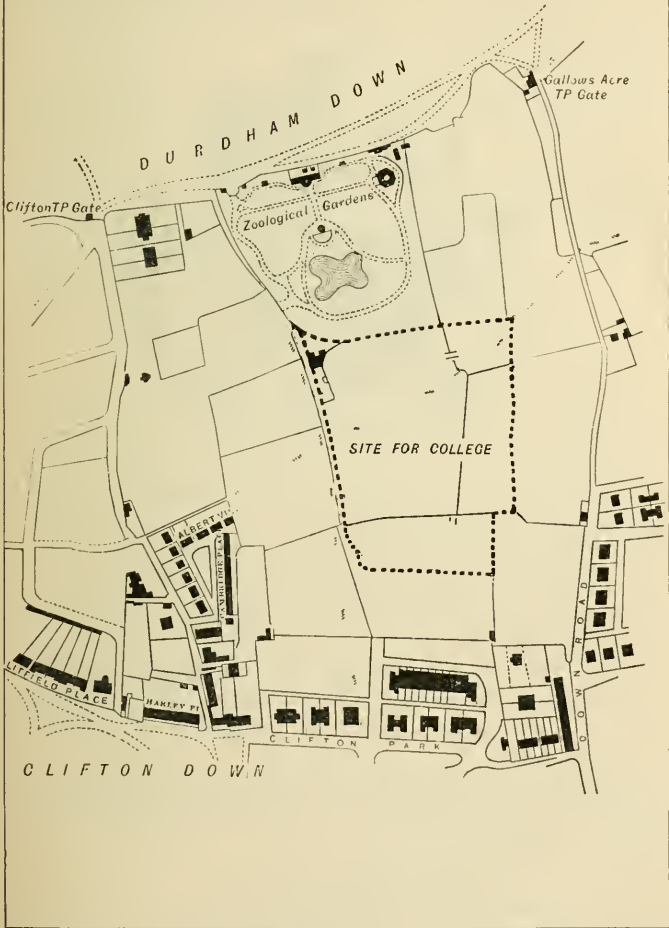

Many able designs were sent in, and the Council, after much time and consideration and aided by the advice of Mr. Ferrey, of London, selected the design of Mr. Charles F. Hansom.

The present intention is to complete one wing of the building, which will be amply sufficient for the present requirements of the College.

In concluding this Report, the Council have the gratification to state that the Reverend Charles Evans, late Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge, and now one of the senior Assistant-Masters at Rugby, has accepted the office of Head-Master. His brilliant University career and deeply religious character, together with his great experience and success as a teacher and as a master, eminently qualify Mr. Evans for this important office; and the Council confidently regard his appointment as one of the best possible guarantees for the future success of the Company.

The accompanying map shows what this part of Clifton was in 1855. The Gardener's Arms is seen at the south-west corner of the Zoological Gardens. There were no houses and no roads where Guthrie Road, College Road, Percival Road, Albert Road, Northcote Road, and the Avenue now are; no Worcester Villas or Crescent; and no houses in Pembroke Road. The area included in dotted lines shows the land occupied by the College.

1855

Here is perhaps the place for describing our arms and our motto. The following description is extracted from a Report apparently presented to the Council at an early date:—

The arms of the College are those of Clifton, quartered with those of the see of Bristol.

The arms of Clifton, are: Ar. a lion rampant between eight cinquefoils sable, and a trefoil in chief.

The trefoil was selected to be the distinctive device of the College, and placed in the dexter chief quartering.

The Clifton arms are placed in the sinister base, and the arms of the see of Bristol occupy the other two quarterings.

The trefoil is heraldically an emblem of perpetuity, and the cinquefoil is stated to answer to the five senses in man, and signifies heraldically "one who masters his affections, and also one that overcometh his enemies, not only by valour but by wisdom."

The motto, "Hæc studia oblectant," is taken from Cicero's oration for the poet Archias.

The following is a description of the arms: Quartering, first or, a trefoil next; second and third sable; three coronets in pale or; fourth azure semée of cinquefoils or; a lion rampant of the last.

Motto, "Hæc studia oblectant."

The coats of arms over the window of the School-House Hall are those of the city of Bristol, the see of Bristol, Dr. Percival, Clifton College, Canon Guthrie, and Lord Ducie.

In November, 1861, a further Report was presented by the Council to the shareholders, from which the following extract will suffice:—

EXTRACT FROM REPORT—NOVEMBER, 1861.

The Council are pleased to be able to avail themselves of this opportunity of reporting that the affairs of the College have progressed satisfactorily since the meeting held in March last. The College buildings, having made considerable progress, are now becoming conspicuous objects, and the architect expresses his satisfaction with their construction in all respects. Upwards of three hundred shares have been taken, and inquiries are now being constantly made by gentlemen residing at a distance, whose position renders their connection desirable for the institution; so that there is no reasonable doubt that the whole four hundred shares will all be issued before the opening of the College.

During this period the Rev. C. Evans, then Fifth Form Master at Rugby, was the Head-Master elect of Clifton College. A Preliminary School had been opened in September, 1861, in Arlington Villas, under the Rev. T. H. Stokoe and Mr. Blackader, and thus a nucleus of a school was being formed, ready to be transferred to the new buildings as soon as they were opened. The day of opening was fixed for September 9, 1862. But shortly before that date, Mr. Evans was elected to the Head-Mastership of King Edward's Grammar School, Birmingham, where he had himself been educated under Dr. Prince Lee. His letter of resignation was read on September 4. To this occurrence, which at the time was deemed a catastrophe, was due the appointment as Head-Master of John Percival. Mr. Percival was then an Assistant-Master at Rugby. He had been there two years under Dr. Temple, the present Bishop of London; and was recommended to the Council by him for the Head-Mastership of Clifton College. Mr. Wilson, the present Head-Master, was at that time one of his colleagues at Rugby.

We now give an extract from the Report of the Council to the shareholders, in September, 1862.

EXTRACT FROM REPORT—SEPTEMBER, 1862.

The Council, in presenting their Report, congratulate the shareholders that they are enabled to meet them within the walls of the College, and that the portion of the building now completed surpasses the expectations they formed when they adopted the design. The Head-Master's House is also ready for occupation; and the whole of the School buildings, they feel satisfied, have been well constructed, and are admirably adapted to the purposes for which they are intended.

The retirement of the Reverend Charles Evans from the Head-Mastership occasioned the Council more anxiety than they can adequately express. Feeling deeply that the success of the College must depend on their obtaining the assistance, not only of a distinguished Scholar, an able Tutor and Master, but also of a gentleman who would strenuously seek to develop a high moral and religious feeling amongst the pupils, they would have had no hesitation, had it been necessary, to have deferred for a time filling up the Head-Mastership, rather than sacrifice any essential requirement.

It was, however, found that the proposed system of education, the advantages of position, the School Buildings and arrangements, were so well known and approved, that several gentlemen, possessing the highest qualifications, were willing to undertake the duties of Head-Master, so that the Council were enabled most promptly to fill up the vacant post.

The Rev. John Percival, M.A., Fellow of Queen's College, Oxford, who has added to a career of almost unsurpassed brilliancy at that University, the experience of two years' mastership at Rugby, is now the Head-Master, and the Council have obtained such satisfactory testimonials to his fitness for the position, that they regard the College as eminently fortunate in securing his services.

At this time the College buildings consisted only of the School-House and Big School (without the wing containing the Sixth Form School), and the offices and an open shed at its northern end. There was no building to the east of this, where now most of the College buildings stand.

The land purchased by the College consisted of the following lots:—

Mr. Adams's land: 9 acres, lying between Worcester Terrace and Zoological Gardens. October, 1860.

Mr. Haynes's land: about 3 acres, adjoining (north and east side of above). March, 1861.

Dr. Black's land: 2 ac. 3 ro., adjoining south portion of Close. June, 1862.

The condition under which the land purchased from Dr. Black is held by the College is somewhat humorously expressed in the deed of conveyance—"that no noisome or offensive trade or business (except that of a School for boys or girls) may be carried on therein."

An acre and a quarter of land on the west side of College Road South, on which are erected Mr. Brown's and the Bachelor Masters' House. June, 1867.

These houses, and the whole of the College buildings, were designed by Mr. C. F. Hanson.

The College was formally opened on Tuesday, September 30, 1862, at 11 a.m. There was an Opening Service in the present Big School. The boys, sixty in number, occupied the front benches; the Cathedral choir assisted; and the room was filled to overflowing by friends of the College. The sermon was preached by the Head-Master, and he prefaced his sermon by the following prayer:—

O Thou Who art the Fountain of all wisdom, and the Giver of all good gifts, without Whom nothing is strong, nothing is holy, look down upon us and bless us in this our beginning. Thou knowest our necessities before we ask, and our ignorance in asking; pardon, therefore, our blindness, if we ask amiss, and give us such things as be profitable. We kneel before Thee as Thy children, humbly beseeching Thee that Thou wilt strengthen us by Thy grace to do the work which Thou hast set before us. Grant unto all who teach in this place the spirit and the strength to labour always for Thy honour and glory, and to train up as faithful followers of Christ all whom Thy providence has committed to our charge.

And to all who learn give an obedient, humble, and child-like spirit, and grant that they may grow up in the fear and love of Thee and of Thy Holy Word ; and that they may go forth and shine like lights in the world, as true servants of their Saviour Christ. And, O blessed Lord, bind us together, men and boys, by the cords of love and trust and confidence, that we may live and labour in this place with the single aim of serving Thee, and walking from henceforth in Thy holy ways. And prosper, O Lord, the work of our hands upon us, O prosper Thou our handiwork, and be with us and watch over us in our daily work and our daily prayers. Hear us, we humbly pray, in the Name and for the sake of our Advocate and Redeemer, Jesus Christ.

From the sermon we give the following extract. It will show, better than any words of ours can show, with what hopes and aims this College was opened ; and these words will form a test and standard to us and to those who shall follow us, by which to show how far we are true and worthy inheritors of this great trust :—

There is a heavy responsibility laid on every one, whether master or pupil, who enters a place like this, which has no tradition, no history, to guide us. Whatever the future of this College may be, that future will be modified for good or evil, nay, in a great measure it will be determined and acquire its character, by the conduct of those who are at this moment beginning their life in it. If you desire to belong to a place of which you may be justly proud ; if you wish to hear this College spoken of as one that bears a high name as a place where truth, and uprightness, and purity, and all Christian virtues are held in honour ; as a place where all that is base or unworthy is hated and despised,—then remember that it rests with you to give it that name.

There is not a single boy who now hears me, down to the very youngest, but may do something to win a worthy, noble, Christian character for this his place of education, if only he will do his best. And remember, all of you, that if any one among you do evil, that evil will not only defile his own heart, but will leave its stain on this unstained spot. And forget not, that it is a different thing to be the first pupils of a School which has its name to make, and its character to win,— it is a very different thing from being members of an old establishment where all this has been done for you. In this place you will be set on a hill, and every act that you do will have a double significance. It is a noble privilege to be so placed, but every privilege implies self-denial and circumspection. If we stand in a conspicuous place, we must take double heed lest we fall. Now, I wish to impress most deeply on you this day that, as members of this young society, you are placed in a most responsible position. I feel this so deeply, and it is of such unspeakable importance that you also should feel it, that I wish to impress it on all in such a way that you may remember it on your knees, night by night, when your day's work is ended. I wish to impress it so that the remembrance may go with you daily in your relations with each other, and may serve as a strong motive to a worthy life. It is not given to every one to be clever. The great majority amongst us will never be able to attain to any intellectual distinction, let them labour as they may. Some of you probably feel this, and are discouraged by it; but remember that there is a nobler gift than any superiority of intellect, which is denied to none who seek it. Men admire learning and ability and talent, and it is right that they should, for these are worthy of all admiration; but the only really great thing upon earth, the only thing by which God will judge us, is goodness, and this, thank God, is within the reach of all. Your memory may be weak and your intellect dull, and you may feel that you cannot keep pace with others round about you; but there is this one thing in which none need yield to his neighbour : all cannot become distinguished for scholarship or other acquirements, but all may be truthful and upright, all can be patient and forgiving, all can be industrious and obedient ; and these are the highest gifts which can be found either in master or boys. On these things I call upon you to reflect this day ; and now is the time to make the resolutions that are to guide your after-life. We, your teachers, have to resolve to dedicate ourselves earnestly and heartily to the work of educating you for your calling in life. And we make that resolution knowing something of what it involves. We shall have to do many things which you may dislike and which may be painful to us, but we shall do them because we are bound to do our duty, and that I trust both men and boys will do while united here. But while we, on our side, have to make our resolutions and to pray for grace to carry them ont, you also have your part to perform in this act of self-dedication.

It is now necessary to adopt one of two methods of arrangement of our Annals. Either it must be a strictly chronological arrangement, and we must record under each successive year the various events of permanent interest, the appointment or the removal by death or otherwise of members of Council and Masters, the opening of new School buildings, or of new "houses," the erection of the Chapel, and its successive additions, the rise of different School institutions, and so on ; or we may treat these and similar subjects in separate sections, giving under each such details as may seem likely to be interesting. Of these two methods, we prefer the latter ; and our Annals will therefore now be divided into chapters.

CHAPTER I.

THE COUNCIL.

THE following list contains the names of all the past and present members of the Council :—

It will be seen that six of the original members still continue to act. In the early days, when the Council met every month, and all the precedents were being formed, when the rapid growth of the College taxed their resources, and when no ordinary boldness and wisdom were required, the members of the Council had no sinecure. Many a “proprietary College” has been crippled for a generation, or has collapsed altogether, by bad finance at the outset. Our Council deserve the thanks of all Cliftonians and all Clifton for the foresight and prudence with which they acted. In one point only we will venture to wish they had been gifted with still more foresight. We wish they had bought at least twice as much land. The map which we have published is tantalizing. Oh that those grass fields were ours—ours to the Pembroke Road; ours to Worcester Terrace; ours to Albert Road and the Downs!

To speak of these members of Council separately, and the services they have rendered, would be invidious. But there is one, Canon Guthrie, whose name has become inseparably associated with the College, in the Guthrie Commemoration. It will not be out of place to reproduce the minute of the Council, dated July 20, 1865, written on the occasion of his death.

Minute of Council, July 20, 1865.

That this Council desire to record their deep sense of the loss which they and the College have sustained by the death of their Chairman, the Rev. Canon Guthrie, and their belief that to his earnest and able exertions, the unsparing devotion of his time and resources, and the great influence of his admirable judgment, genial nature, and elevated Christian character, a very large portion of the present success of this Institution is to be attributed.

This chapter on the Council will be scarcely complete without an appendix, giving the names of the Secretaries to the College. The work of the Secretary is one of great importance.

SECRETARIES.

Edward James (Hon. Sec. of Provisional Committee), May, 1860.

John Page, September, 1860—March, 1862.

E. C. Boville, March, 1862—December, 1862.

James Baker (Temporary and Assistant Secretary), January, 1863—April, 1864.

Rev. J. B. Medley, January, 1864—March, 1864.

W. D. L. Macpherson, May, 1864.

CHAPTER II.

THE HEAD-MASTERS.

THE list of Head-Masters is fortunately a short one. We have already recorded the appointment and withdrawal of the Rev. C. Evans.

The appointment of the Rev. John Percival, M.A., has also been recorded.* In November, 1878, he was elected by the Fellows of Trinity College, Oxford, as their new President, and left Clifton in April, 1879. For eight years he occupied this post of President, combining with it for the latter portion of the period the position of Canon of Bristol; and in November, 1886, on the retirement of Dr. Jex Blake from Rugby, Dr. Percival accepted the Head-Mastership, and entered on his work at his old school, after an absence from it of twenty-five years, in April, 1887.

To show with what feelings the Council parted from Dr. Percival, and appointed Mr. Wilson, we give an extract from the Council Report of 1878.

REPORT FOR 1878.

It is with feelings of very sincere regret that the Council have to announce that the connection between them and their present Head-Master, the Rev. Dr. Percival, is now about to terminate. Dr. Percival, who has occupied the position of Head-Master for over sixteen years, has been offered and accepted the post of President of Trinity College, Oxford, and will leave the College in April next. The Council have on many occasions recorded what has been continually present in their minds—the very deep sense of what they owe to Dr. Percival in the establishment and maintenance of the College. Dr. Percival entered upon his duties in the autumn of 1862, when sixty boys and a small staff of Masters assembled at the first opening of the School. Somewhat suddenly called to the post, the circumstances of his appointment were certainly not such as to confer any exceptional advantages upon his work; but it soon became very evident that Dr. Percival was fitted in a very remarkable degree for the duties he had undertaken. The respect and regard of those about him, both of the Masters and the boys, were speedily obtained. The School in the short space of two years quadrupled its numbers, and continued steadily to increase; means of more fully satisfying modern requirements in scientific and other teaching were suggested and added; the Library, the Museum, and other valuable educational appliances were provided (some at Dr. Percival's own cost); and, in short, every means were taken towards obtaining for the School ample breadth and the highest excellence in education, and that not for a passing advantage, but with the full purpose of securing for those under his care the best possible training, and for the College the definite and assured position of a great Public School. It is a matter upon which the Council can offer their hearty congratulations to Dr. Percival that this satisfactory end has been so happily secured by the Royal Charter which the School has now been granted, but which, without the marked success of Dr. Percival's Head-Mastership, would have been impossible of attainment. The Council are fully sensible that the great work which Dr. Percival has done at Clifton College cannot have been accomplished without a serious strain upon his mental and bodily strength, and they are therefore happy to reflect, as some slight compensation for their regret in losing his services, that he may be able to find, in the distinguished but less onerous post he has been called upon to occupy, a means of obtaining that relaxation from unusual and pressing labours which must be indispensable to the preservation of his health and usefulness. The Council have felt the very great importance of securing a successor who could satisfactorily fill the position vacated by Dr. Percival, and, after devoting very close care and attention to the subject, they have elected Mr. James Maurice Wilson, late Fellow of St. John's College, Cambridge, to the Head-Mastership. Mr. Wilson, who passed a distinguished University career (being Senior Wrangler in 1859), has had long experience as a teacher and house master at Rugby. The testimony borne to his fitness for the position of Head-Master to the College is of the very highest character, and it appears to the Council that in obtaining his services they are taking the surest means of securing the prosperity of the College and the best interests of the present and future boys.

* The University of St. Andrews conferred the degree of LL.D. upon Mr. Percival in the year 1874.

The list, then, of Head-Masters is as follows:—

Rev. C. Evans (Head-Master elect), January, 1861—September, 1862.

Rev. J. Percival, September 4, 1862—April, 1879.

Rev. J. M. Wilson, April, 1879—

CHAPTER VI.

THE COLLEGE CHAPEL.

THE history of the Chapel must be given in some detail. In the early days of the College the gallery of Big School was used as the Chapel. Then part of Big School itself was so used; and it must have been with great joy that the School received the intelligence that Mrs. Guthrie, the widow of the late Chairman of the College Council, proposed to build a Chapel in memory of Canon Guthrie.

The following extract from the Council Report for September, 1866, will be interesting:—

Shortly after the annual meeting of 1865, at which mention was made of the death of their Chairman, the Rev. Canon Guthrie, the Council received a communication from his widow, the late Mrs. Guthrie, requesting them to set apart a site to enable her to erect a Chapel for the College, in memory of her husband. To this munificent proposition the Council at once gave grateful assent, and heartily offered every facility to enable Mrs. Guthrie to carry out her liberal intention in the way most suited to her wishes. The site selected is about fifty yards east of the present College building. The first stone was laid in the month of December last [the 19th] by Mrs. Guthrie, and a beautiful building is in course of erection, and is now rapidly approaching completion.

The Council deeply deplore that Mrs. Guthrie has not lived to see the accomplishment of her purpose.

The Council, on receiving the intimation of Mrs. Guthrie's intention to build a Chapel, decided upon erecting a tower at the west end of the Chapel, as a memorial of this institution to the late Canon Guthrie.

In the following year, on June 15, 1867, the Chapel was formally opened and licensed by the Lord Bishop of the diocese. The sermon was preached by the Rev. F. Temple, D.D., Head-Master of Rugby School, now Bishop of London. He took for his text Mark iv. 26, 27. One extract from this sermon shall be given.

Week by week this Chapel and its services is meant to preach to you, and assuredly will preach to you, its silent sermon—will teach you, almost without your knowing it, with its unspoken exhortation, will secretly remind you of the Gospel of our Master and Redeemer, and of His ever-repeated call to walk with your eyes fixed on His face. Years hence, when many of you are old men, the secret power of its influence will still be working on your character. Years hence, many of you will find that the College Chapel holds the central place in your memories of school life. You will remember with affection and with lingering, clinging pleasure, the warmth of youth, and the pleasant companions, and the joyous games, and the triumphs and disappointments, and the progress through the School, and the recurrence of the regular lessons; but you will find that, however you may have lived—perhaps it may be all unworthily of such a blessing—the College Chapel and the Sunday services, and perhaps particular sermons that struck you and made a great difference to you, and perhaps conversations with intimate friends about them, and many other great matters and small matters connected with the Chapel, will stand out in the memory, and by their hold on your feelings will prove how many lessons they taught you—lessons, it may be, sinfully forgotten, but taught for all that, and making you responsible for your obedience or disobedience to their spirit. The Word of God is as the seed. . . . But the regular services, such as you will find in this Chapel, will be like the fixed return of the living warmth, of the quickening light, to the growing plant. You will not be set free from all need of exertion. Far otherwise. . . . You will have to do your part. But, meanwhile, the fixed order of your religious life will do its appointed part, as the rain and the heat bring the plant out of the earth, and, without your knowing it, while you rise night and day, the seed shall spring up and find its place in your soul, and you will most certainly be a different man from what you would have been if there had been no such building here, no such services, no such regularity of religious observance.

The following is a list of the first gifts made to the College Chapel:—

Tower, built by the College in memory of Canon Guthrie, to be called the Guthrie Memorial Tower, and clock given by friends and neighbours.

Rose window, presented by President, Vice-Presidents, and Council.

Organ, given by Dr. Percival.

Communion plate, given by the Junior School in memory of J. R. Coles.

Cloth for Communion Table, given by Mr. H. M. Clarke.

Oak lectern, given by Dr. Black.

Alms-bowl, given by Dr. E. L. Fox.

Communion Table, given by a lady.

Pulpit, given by the Masters.

Chancel chairs and stools, given by Dr. and Mrs. Good-eve.

Bible, given by Mr. John Hare.

Prayer-books, given by Mr. Luckman and Mr. Trimnell.

The Chapel so built consisted of a nave and chancel only, its north side being exactly like the present south side. The organ-chamber was then on the north side of the chancel, approached by a winding staircase. The choir sat in the chancel. Gradually the Chapel received gifts of windows, all of which, as well as the monumental brasses, will be presently noticed. But, as years went on, it became plain that the Chapel needed enlargement. In May, 1881, the Head-Master submitted to the Council designs for a north aisle, prepared by Mr. Hansom, and undertook to invite subscriptions from the parents of boys, to supplement a grant of £900 from the College Building Fund, and to be personally responsible for the whole cost.

While the north aisle was being built, the School met for divine service in Emmanuel Church, by the kind permission of the Rev. T. G. Luckock and his church-wardens. The enlarged Chapel was reopened after Easter, 1882. We will not attempt to give any detailed architectural description of it, such as may be read in the Cliftonian of July, 1882. The pillars are of Peterhead granite; the panelling of Mansfield stone; the windows of the aisle—of grisaille glass, copied from some of the best specimens in York and Exeter—are by Lavars and Westlake. The four corbels on the side of the aisle nearest the west end are "St. Paul and the Three," the likeness of St. Paul being taken from an ancient triptych in Rome. The corbels on the side of the nave are a choir of angels with musical instruments.

The roof of the nave was, at that time, of white plaster; one bay, nearest the chancel arch, had been experimentally coloured with a decorative design. The present roof was placed in the Chapel during the years 1882 and 1883, four of the bays having been given by the Head-Master and Assistant-Masters, and three by House subscriptions in the School. In 1884, 1885, and 1886, the reseating of the north side of the nave, and the stalls at the west end, were the gift chiefly of the School. In 1885 and 1886 the Head-Master put up the present roof of oak to the chancel and apse, replacing the old plaster roof, and also removed the white Bath stone shafts in the apse, and substituted the present shafts of red Kilkenny marble and serpentine. In 1886, also, Mr. Tait gave the Communion rails. In 1887 Mr. Watson presented the arcading and the oak benches on the north side of the chancel; and the School subscriptions, aided by a handsome donation from F. B. May, an old Cliftonian, provided the marble shafts and carved string course on the north side of the chancel, the completion of the tiling of the chancel, and the gas standards within the rails.

Up to the year 1873 the services in Chapel were held in the morning and afternoon. In 1868 Mr. Oakeley started Sunday evening organ recitals in Chapel, at which attendance was voluntary, and averaged about a hundred. During the two winter terms of 1873-74 the second Chapel service was held in the evening. In 1875 the present custom was adopted. In place of the evening Chapel there was established for the boarders the Big

School Lecture, which thus from the beginning partook of the nature of a religious service. This service has always consisted of a collect, a hymn, an organ voluntary played by Mr. Oakeley, a lecture, another hymn, and prayers. With few exceptions, the lectures have been given by Masters, but occasionally a visitor, such as Bishop Temple, Canon Girdlestone, Professor Bonamy Price, George Macdonald, T. H. Warren, T. Hughes, or Sir E. Fry, has delivered the address.

The College hymn-book was first used in Chapel on Advent Sunday, 1872. It was compiled by a Committee of Masters and boys, and has twice subsequently—in 1875 and 1885—been re-edited and enlarged. The Psalter, by Sir Herbert Oakeley, was introduced in March, 1886.

It will now be interesting to give a record of the windows as they are at the present date, the summer of 1887.

Beginning at the west end. The rose window has been already mentioned as the gift of the Council. It is by Wailes. It represents our Lord in glory, surrounded by the apostles. The window next the gallery on the north side is by Lavars and Westlake. The coat of arms and motto are those of Dr. Percival. The western light is a reproduction of Murillo's John the Baptist, and was given by the Head-Master. The eastern light is a companion representation of our Lord, and was given by a few personal friends of the Head-Master. The inscriptions are respectively—

BRADDAN BROWN, NAT. 1869, OB. 1876;

MAURICE TEMPLE WILSON, NAT. 1876, OB. 1886;

with the legend connecting the two lights—

CONDISCIPULORUM COLLEGARUM FILIOLI DESIDERIA.

The windows in the north aisle are intended to receive panels which will form a historic series. At present only two are complete. The panels in the eastern window of the aisle were given by Mr. Tait, "in memoriam matris." The four lower panels represent the four evangelists; the four upper represent four English saints—St. Augustine of Canterbury, St. Bede, St. Boniface, and St. Hugh. The panels in the next window are in memory of G. S. Swinton, who fell in the Soudan; and of E. Rickenbach, who died at the College, within a week after his confirmation, in December, 1884. The panels are the four Latin Fathers—Jerome, Ambrose, Augustine, and Gregory.

The first window in the chancel on the north side is by Powell and Son, and is the gift of Mr. Bartholomew. It is intended to symbolize some of the early teaching in the Chapel pulpit. The teachable spirit is represented by Samuel and the text, "Speak, Lord, for Thy servant heareth;" the spirit of aspiration by St. John, with the text, "We shall see Him as He is." Above are three angels bearing scrolls, with the words, ἀκούετε, τὰ ἄνω φρονεῖτε, ἀνδρίζεσθε. It was given in May, 1887. The next window is by Bell, of Bristol, and bears the following inscription:—

To the Glory of God and in memory of the beloved son of William Gale and Mary Elizabeth Coles,

Who died XI. August, MDCCCLXVI.,

Aged XII. years.

The subjects are the Baptism, and Christ blessing little children.

The first window in the apse is in memory of Mr. C. H. Cay, at one time the Mathematical Master of the College, and much loved there. It bears no inscription. The subject is Christ as pupil and Christ as master.

The three central windows of the apse are Guthrie windows, and have the following inscriptions:—

M. S. OPTIMI PATRONI JOHANNIS GUTHRIE
POSUERUNT QUI HIC AD HUMANITATEM INFORMATI ERANT
GRATIS ANIMIS NOMEN EICUS ET EXEMPLAR SIBI VINDICANTE
A. S. 1867.

PIÆ MEMORIÆ C. S. GUTHRIE,
PROPINQUI PROPINQUAM SOROR ET FRATRES SOROREM CARISSIMAM
MÆRENTES POSUERUNT A. S. 1867.

M. S. CAROLINÆ STANLEIÆ GUTHRIE,
QUÆ HANC ÆDEM STRUENDAM CURAVIT PIETATIS MONUMENTO
DEDICAVERT HUIUSCE SCHOLÆ DISCIPULI TANQUAM
MATREM SIBI ABREPTAM DESIDERANTES, A. S. 1867.

The subjects of the central window are the Resurrection and the Ascension; those of the window on the north side of it, the Agony in the Garden, and the Last Supper; and those of the window on the south side of it, Christ before Pilate, and Christ bearing the Cross.

Continuing the apse windows towards the south, we come to the window erected by Evelyn Abbott to the memory of his father. The inscription below is as follows:—

EVELYN ABBOTT,
OBIIIT MORTEM OCT. VIII. MDCCCLXXI.;
ÆTAT. LIX.
FILIUS MAGISTRIS HUIUS COLLEGI
QUONDAM ADSRIPTUS PATREM OPTIMUM DESIDERAT.

The subjects of the window are Mary Magdalene, and Gethsemane.

The next window, on the south side of the chancel, is in memory of Sholto James Douglas. The inscription is on a brass plate below the window, and will be given later on. Its subject is the parable of the Good Samaritan.

All these windows, from the Cay to the Douglas window inclusive, are by Hardman.

The next window is by Bell, with the inscription—

Presented by

ALEXANDER CHARLES and MARTIN HENRY PIRIE,

In memory of their school-days spent here.

A.D. 1867.

Its subject is Christ preaching to the people.

On the south side of the nave, next the pulpit, the window is by Bell. It represents the Apostles St. Peter and St. Andrew. It was given by Mr. W. Evill, in 1869, on behalf of two sons, W. E. and H. M. Evill, in memory of their school-days spent here.

Three windows remain blank, and then there is a window representing the Apostles James and John, in memory of Arthur Edward Peile, who died in India; and the next representing the Apostles Philip and Bartholomew, in memory of George Æmilius and James Webster Bird, members of the India Civil Service, who died in India. Both of these are by Hardman, and were given by old Cliftonians and friends.

The window at the south side of the gallery was given by Dr. Symonds, and is in memory of his friend Canon Guthrie.

Ten of the twelve small windows in the antechapel were given by lady friends of the late Mrs. Guthrie; the two remaining windows were the gift of the architect.

We will now give the inscriptions on the various brasses.

In the chancel, on the north side, is a brass that commemorates the founding of the Chapel. It is now not in its original form, but has been altered to suit the monumental arcading erected in 1887, and occupies the easternmost bay. The words are—

To the Glory of God

This Chapel was erected by Caroline Guthrie, in memory of her husband, the

REV. JOHN GUTHRIE, M.A.,

Vicar of Calne and Canon of Bristol, the first Chairman of the Council of Clifton College,
Who died at Clifton on the 5th of July, 1865.

The foundation-stone was laid by her on the 19th of December, 1865.

The Chapel was opened on the 15th of June, 1867.
She herself died on the 15th of April, 1866, before the work was completed, so that it remains a joint memorial of her who gave it and of him whose name it was intended to honour.

“And their works do follow them.”—Rev. xiv. 13.

Opposite this, under the Douglas window, is the following inscription:—

All Glory be to God.

In memory of

SHOLTO JAMES,

2nd son of General Sir James Douglas, G.C.B.,

Born June 13th, 1820, died June 10th, 1868.

This window is erected by personal friends who loved him in Mauritius during a residence of fifteen years.

The north aisle is panelled along its entire wall-space with Mansfield stone, which forms an arcading with sunk spaces and carved spandrils. These panels are intended for memorial brasses of distinguished old Cliftonians. On the east side of the organ gallery is begun a series of memorials of those who fall in the service of our country. The war in Egypt was not the first in which our young officers fought, but it was the first in which they fell. The inscription is as follows :—

IN PIAM MEMORIAM
M. C. BOYLE
J. W. W. DARLEY
W. D. MARSHALL
G. S. SWINTON
E. S. HICKMAN

QUI A.S. MDCCCLXXXII—V. BELLO NILIACO NOSTRÆ ARMORUM
PRIMITIÆ NOSTRIS MEMORANDI CECIDERE.

At the west end of the north aisle are two other memorials to old Cliftonians, whose deaths were painfully felt at their old school.

STEPHANUM et CAROLUM E. EDDY,
AP. XXIX. A.S. MDCCCLXXX.

FRATRES IN VITA CONIUNCTISSIMOS, SPEM STIRPIS UNICAM, QUI

On the oak panelling of the Masters' stalls at the west end, it is intended that small brasses shall be placed to commemorate Assistant-Masters who have given long service to the School. At present there is one such brass in memory of the fifteen years' service of Mr. Atkinson. It contains merely the name and dates:—

1869.

G. T. ATKINSON.

1884.

There are also three brasses in the Antechapel. One is in memory of a Master whose sudden death deeply moved the School.

In memory of

ALEXANDER FLETCHER JONES, B.A.,

A Master in this College,

Who was killed by the accidental discharge of a rifle at Sea Mills, February 16th, 1878,

Aged 24 years.

“Peaceable, gentle, and easy to be intreated, full of mercy and good fruits.”—Jas. iii. 17.

Another is in memory of the first head of the School, a boy of rare gifts and character, to whose loyalty and high principle the School owed much in its early days. It is no mere fancy to believe that some of his influence still survives among us.

In memory of

HENRY WILLIAM WELLESLEY,

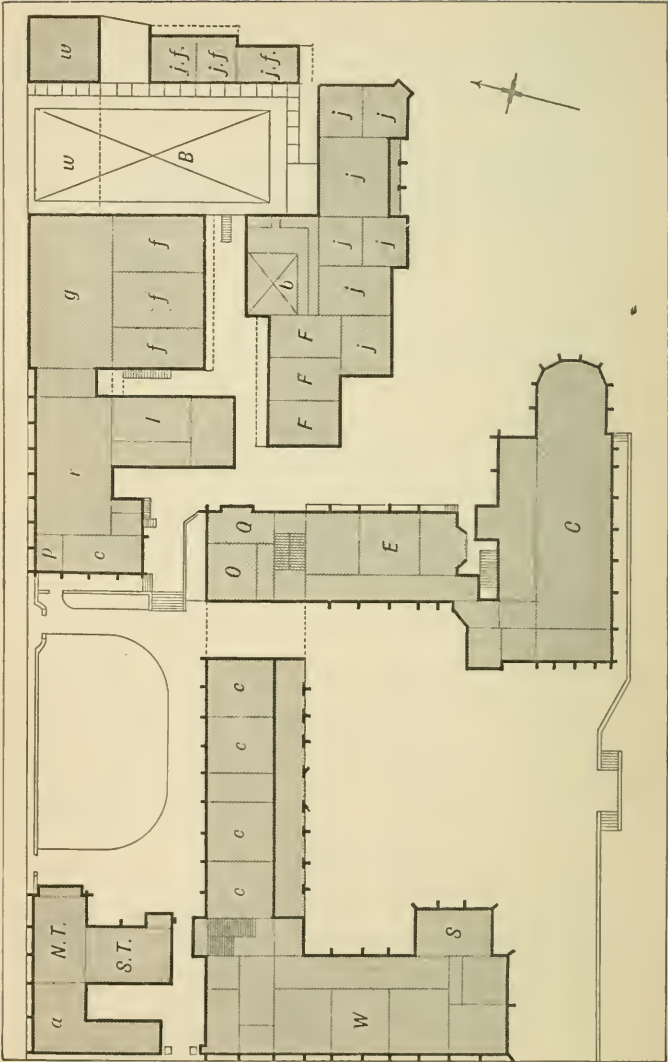

Madras Civil Service, the first head of this School.

A few of his friends and fellow-servants in India, who mourn the loss of a life of high promise cut short by early death, have erected this tablet as a token of affection and respect.

He died January 11th, 1878, aged 33 years.

And, lastly, there is a brass in memory of one whose tall figure and kindly face will long be remembered with affection—John Skelton.

PLAN OF COLLEGE BUILDINGS.

CHAPTER VII.

COLLEGE BUILDINGS.

WE will now give a sketch of the growth of the College buildings, which will be made more intelligible by an inspection of the accompanying block plan.

INDEX TO FIGURES ON PLAN.

- a.* Armoury.
- N. T.* North Town Room.
- S. T.* South Town Room.
- p.* Porter's room
- c.* Confectioner's shop } Drawing-School over.
- r.* Racquet-court.
- l.* Chemical Laboratories and Lecture-Room.
- g.* Gymnasium.
- f, f, f.* Bat Fives'-courts.
- B.* Large bath.
- w, w.* Workshop on first floor.
- j. f.* Junior School Fives'-courts.
- b.* Small bath.
- F, F, F.* Covered Fives'-courts.
- j, j, j.* Junior School Class-rooms.
- c.* Chapel.
- E.* East wing; four stories.
- o, o.* Secretary's Offices.
- c, c, c.* Class-rooms; Library and Museum over.
- w.* West Wing; Class-rooms and Big School over.
- s.* Sixth School; first floor.

The first buildings connected with the College were the present Big School and School-House. They were begun early in 1861, and opened in September, 1862. One open fives-court was also built in that year. They then stood alone among green fields.

In 1863 the School-House was finished.

In 1864 some land was set apart for the Sanatorium in the south-east corner of the close; and the cricket-ground was levelled by the removal of rock and soil from the end nearest the terrace, and by filling up the natural hollow that crossed the close towards the Sanatorium.

On February 9th of this year, during a hard frost the roof of Big School caught fire from a wooden plug left in one of the chimneys. By dint of great efforts of Masters and boys the fire was got under before very much harm was done. But it was a narrow escape.

The same year also three open fives-courts were built, standing apart from any then existing building, but now the centre of a group with the gymnasium at back, the small bath fronting them, and the big bath and chemical school on either hand.

In 1865 the Sanatorium building furthest from the College, now known as No. 2, was erected. The fives-courts erected in the previous year were covered partly at the expense of the Head-Master.

In 1866 the wing of Big School containing the Sixth-Form School was added.

In 1867 the Chapel was built as above detailed; also the first practical laboratories were built, and formed part of the range of schools adjoining the Guthrie Road, which have recently disappeared. The same year also saw the erection of the Gymnasium.

In 1868 the baths were built, and opened in the following spring; and the cricket pavilion was also built, partly by subscription, and partly at the expense of the Council.

In 1870 the library portion of the Percival buildings was erected. The class-rooms below were built by the Council, and the Library was the gift of Dr. Percival.

The gift is commemorated in the Library itself by a brass tablet, on which the inscription is as follows:—

The Council of Clifton College place this tablet to record the munificent gift of the Head-Master, the Rev. John Percival, to whose liberality Clifton College is indebted for the erection of this Hall, which, in grateful remembrance of the donor, is called
THE PERCIVAL LIBRARY.
July, 1870.

In the same year also the Sanatorium, now known as No. 1, was built, and the porter's lodge adjoining it.

In 1871 the further extension of buildings may be gathered from the Council report of that year.

REPORT FOR 1871.

The Library, added last year through the munificence of Mr. Percival, has proved admirably adapted for the purpose for which it was intended, and gives a completeness to the educational advantages of the College. Besides being used as a Library, it at present answers also the purpose of a Museum. Cases for scientific specimens have been placed in it, and these, through the energy of a Scientific Society established by the Masters and boys of the College, and through the interest and liberality of friends, are becoming well stocked with valuable specimens. The Council have set aside a portion of the ground at the back of the Chapel for a Botanical Garden, which has been stocked, and is now kept in order under the direction of the Master teaching botany. Both Museum and Garden will doubtless prove a valuable help to the scientific studies of the boys.

To render more complete the facilities for the study of Physical Science, the Council have thought it advisable to add a Physical Laboratory to the range of buildings at the back of the College, and at the same time have erected a Workshop adjoining it. These are both under the superintendence of the Master teaching Physical Science, who is also a Civil Engineer.

The workshop was built on the site of the original fives-court, and two open fives-courts, between the workshop and the College building, were erected in the place of the one demolished.

In 1872 an open racquet-court was built by subscription, covering approximately the site of the present covered fives-courts near the small bath. It was considerably larger than ordinary racquet-courts.

In 1874 the Choral Society presented the organ in Big School.

In 1875 the workshop spoken of above was converted into class-rooms, and a new workshop built over the end of the large bath.

Two covered fives-courts were erected by subscription where the present South Town room now stands.

Also in 1875 the Museum and open cloister were added, as will be seen from the following extract from the Council Report:—

REPORT FOR 1875.

In the mean time, further advances have been made towards the completion of the buildings. In the early part of the year a voluntary movement was set on foot by the Masters, boys, and some friends of the Head-Master, to add a Museum, with class-rooms, etc., to the Library, and to erect a cloister in front of the buildings thus extended, to comprise together "The Percival Buildings," and they invited the Council to approve their proposal and to assist them in their object. The Council had much pleasure in doing this and in bearing their share of the expense. As a result of the scheme, they now direct attention to the range of buildings completed in January last, providing a Museum, two class-rooms, and offices, which add considerably to the utility and comfort of the School, and give a tone and finish to the architectural effect of the whole structure.

In 1876 the Junior School buildings were added. Up to this time the Juniors had been taught in Big School. What nerves of iron must the Junior School Masters have then enjoyed, with five forms taught simultaneously in that School, where every sound echoes and re-echoes! Each Master had a bell, which he sounded when he wished to admonish his colleagues that the noise was intolerable, and his own form inaudible. Not unfrequently all five bells were sounded at once. Happy, indeed, their release. Two memorials of the Junior School survived for some years: one was a dart, constructed in the ordinary way with paper wings, that some young far-darting Apollo had succeeded in hurling to the very ceiling—there it remained till the summer of 1883, when the ceiling was white-washed; the other was an accumulation of worn-out fives balls, which the ingenious youth of that day had disposed of by throwing into the open mouths of the great organ-pipes that towered over them. When the organ was enlarged and provided with new bellows in 1881, these five balls were discovered in the pipes.

But we must return to the severe tone of the annalist, and record this event in the more dignified language of the Council.

REPORT FOR 1876.

Some time since the attention of the Council was drawn to the advisability of erecting a separate building for the Junior School, with a view of separating this department more thoroughly from the Upper School. As it was much desired by the Head-Master, and the Council were convinced that it was decidedly for the general advantage of the College that such provision should be made, they last summer selected a site between the Chapel and the Baths, and began the erection of a building according to the plans furnished by Mr. Hansom, to comprise one large room in the centre and four rooms adjoining, to give the accommodation required. The building is now roofed in, and will shortly be ready for occupation. A separate entrance will be made from the College Road, near the Workshop. The site has been so chosen as to take little or nothing from the space available for the boys' recreation, while the structure is thoroughly in character with the other buildings, pleasing in itself, and completes the handsome and substantial range which forms the southern front of the College.

1877 was the year of the Royal Charter—a subject which deserves a chapter to itself. In this year also the Clifton College Building Fund was started, which led to the building of the east wing, the enlargement of the Chapel, and the building of the racquet-court. The establishment of this Fund (which is still open and receives subscriptions) is thus recorded in the Report of the Council:—

It has been thought by many friends of the College that the present is an appropriate time to take some steps towards the completion of the College buildings, and a Committee, comprising many of the leading citizens of Bristol, besides gentlemen specially interested in the College, was accordingly appointed by the promoters to raise the sum (£9000) considered necessary for finishing the School buildings, enlarging the Chapel—which is now insufficient for the accommodation of the boys—and erecting a racquet-court. In this scheme the concurrence of the Council was asked, and, of course, was gladly given. It is to them and, no doubt, to the Governors a matter of great satisfaction to find that within the College official circle so energetic a spirit for its welfare is manifest, while so kindly a recognition is accorded to the youngest chartered institution of this city, and such evidence of hearty interest and co-operation exhibited by the generous citizens of Bristol.

The Secretaries of the Fund are Mr. E. N. P. Moor, Mr. John Harvey, and Mr. Frederick Wills.

During this year Sanatorium No. 3 was built, and one of the Junior School fives-courts was converted into a class-room.

In 1878 was started the confectioner's shop, in a temporary shed. It was then a branch of one of the shops of Clifton.

In 1879, during the summer, the old racquet-court, which was a good deal out of repair, and little used, was converted into three covered fives-courts. The Junior School buildings were extended by an enlargement of the fives-court school, making it into a good class-room, and by the addition of the school which stands next to it, with two gables.

In 1880, the Clifton College Building Fund having reached a total of £3992 13s. 8d., of which part was unappropriated, part was given to the chapel, part for new schools, and part for a racquet-court, it was decided to proceed with the new schools, the Head-Master undertaking to collect further funds for the enlargement of the Chapel. The east wing was therefore built, from and including the staircase southward towards the Chapel, thus providing seven class-rooms, and an excellent Physical Science Lecture-room and Laboratory. In the same year the observatory at the back of College Gate, containing a good and well-mounted refracting telescope, was given by Mr. A. M. Worthington, then one of the Masters.

The bust of Dr. Percival, by Woolner, which had been given by the School, was placed in the Library in this year.

In 1881 the north aisle of the Chapel was added, as related in Chapter VI.

In 1882 the Sanatorium was finished by building the rooms for the matron, and bath-rooms and waiting-room, connecting No. 1 and the older portion of the Sanatorium. This has made the Sanatorium arrangements very complete and thorough.

In 1884 the racquet-court and its dressing-room were built from funds given by Masters, old Cliftonians, and friends. There is still a debt, which is being gradually extinguished by the School subscriptions.

In the same year also the Chemical Laboratory was enlarged by the addition of an upper story. What is now the Masters' private Laboratory was previously the School Laboratory; and part of the present theatre was used as a lecture-room for Chemistry classes. The rest formed the private Laboratory and store-room. The new Laboratory is on the upper floor, and covers the whole space. It was planned by Mr. Shenstone, the present Chemistry Master, and opened in September, 1884.

In the spring of 1886 a further step was made towards the completion of the buildings. The east wing had up to this time been built only as far as the staircase, and presented a blank wall to the road. The racquet-court similarly presented a blank west wall. The Council decided on completing the east wing according to the original design, and adding at the end of the racquet-court a building worthy of so conspicuous a position. The ground floor of this building contains a porter's room and the confectioner's shop, and in the upper floor is a drawing-school presided over by the Art Master. Soon after these plans were decided upon, Mr. Tait and Mr. Wollaston, the Town Tutors, consulted the Head-Master as to the possibility of providing the Towns with suitable large rooms, and offered to guarantee the whole cost of these rooms, amounting to £1000. The South Town had hitherto occupied what is now the Head-Master's room at the end of the old cloister, and the North Town had of late years occupied the end room in the new cloister. Colonel Plant also, the honorary Captain of the School Engineer Corps, pressed for a larger Armoury. The Armoury had hitherto been a small room occupying half of its present floor. A plan was therefore brought by the Head-Master before the Council for the removal of the two covered and two open fives-courts, and the range of schools that lay behind them, and the erection of the present Armoury and Town rooms. Four covered fives-courts were built at the same time on what was the Head-Master's kitchen garden.

In 1887 these buildings were all opened. The Secretary's office and book-room were moved to their present convenient position in the east wing.

Such has been the history of the buildings. Still something remains to be done, and notably the completion of the Chapel by its south aisle, for which funds are being subscribed by the parents of boys; and the completion of the Tower, which will connect the east wing and the Percival buildings, and will contain the Council-room and the Sixth-Form School.

The retrospect of what has been done by the liberality of those connected with the College and the energy of the Council, is the best assurance that some who are now in the School will see these buildings completed.

CHAPTER VIII.

SCHOOL ORGANIZATION AND INSTITUTIONS.

THIS will not, perhaps, greatly interest the general reader, and yet a short chapter on this subject is indispensable in our annals. It would be, indeed, a matter of great interest and importance to trace how the organization of the different departments grew to its present condition.

From the beginning the School was divided into Classical and Modern sides ; and their numbers seem to have been nearly in the same proportion from the first.

Towards the end of 1862 Dr. Percival had proposed to Mr. Hartnell, who then had a small school in Clifton, that he should transfer his school to the College as the nucleus of a department for younger boys, but there was a difficulty in securing a suitable house, which caused considerable delay. In April, 1863, the Junior School was opened at 7, Rodney Place, with Mr. Hartnell and Mr. Luckman as Masters.

In September, 1863, the Junior School had so increased that No. 8, Rodney Place, was taken for teaching purposes only, the whole of No. 7 being required as a boarding house.

The Junior School was removed to Big School in February, 1867, and to its present buildings in 1876.

In 1873 it became advisable to make a separate class to prepare boys for the Indian Engineering College at Cooper's Hill, and for the Royal Military Academy, Woolwich; and in 1875 a new "side," known as the Military and Engineering department, was established, and placed under Mr. Hall, an old Cliftonian, who had been recently appointed. In the last term of 1875, for example, we see that the numbers were as follows: Classical side, 243; Modern side, 139; Military and Engineering side, 22; and Junior School, 121. The corresponding numbers in the second term of 1887 were 295, 140, 44, 137.

In 1874 the Head-Master recommended the establishment of a small Preparatory School; and this was opened under Mr. Escott at No. 4, College Terrace, Northcote Road. This School was transferred to its present home in Gresford Lodge, the Avenue, in September, 1880.

In 1883 the alterations in regulations for admission into the line made it advisable to introduce some special arrangements for Sandhurst candidates; and this department, which was worked along with the Woolwich classes, was placed under the charge of Mr. Stevens. The department also prepares for the Entrance Examination into the City and Guilds of London Technical School.

In 1884 some fresh arrangements were made for giving candidates for the India Civil Service any special instruction they require. In the same year also the new chemical laboratory was opened for practical classes as well as private pupils.

A very important School institution is that of Evening Preparation. A certain number of boys are allowed to prepare their work in their studies. This privilege depends upon a boy's Form, and weekly place in the Form. The rest have Preparation in the House Hall, under the superintendence of a Preparation-Master. This duty is undertaken partly by the House-Tutor.

The Resident House-Tutor has from the first been an institution in the School-House. His duties are to assist the House-Master generally, but, more particularly, to take share in the Preparation, and to take special charge of some private pupils. As other houses were established, their Masters had to get help for the Preparation. In course of time the Preparation-Master, thus introduced, developed into a Resident House-Tutor. The tuition is something very different from that which obtains at most other Public Schools—Eton, for example. At Clifton nearly the whole of a boy's working time is spent in School with Form or Set Masters; consequently there is no time for additional or co-ordinate work done with the Tutor. Attempts have from time to time been made to assimilate our tuition, in this respect, to that of Eton or Rugby. But the stress of work infallibly tends to confine the tuition within the limits of additional preparation for Form and Set work in School.

This tuition is paid for by the House-Master. Every House has attached to it non-resident Tutors, who assist in the ordinary Evening Preparation, or take pupils in subjects which need special attention, as may be directed by the House-Master.

This system of tuition has been, to some extent, adopted in the Town Houses. It will be seen, therefore, that every boy at Clifton, beside his Form Master and Set Masters, has a Tutor, but that the functions of the Tutor differ materially from those of Tutors at other Schools.

The Musical Society is one of the most important institutions of the School.

The Choir, in 1862, was under the direction of Mr. Hipwell, and consisted of about eighteen voices.

In 1864 Mr. Trinnell became Organist and Choir-master.

In 1871 a supernumerary Choir was started. The Choir sat in the chancel; the supernumerary Choir with their Forms. This arrangement did not prove satisfactory; and the supernumerary Choir was given up. Upon the enlargement of the Chapel, in 1882, the Choir was removed, at the same time as the organ, to the middle of the nave, and was much increased in number. In 1886 the introduction of Sir Herbert Oakeley's Psalter produced a marked improvement in the singing, and the success promises to be permanent. The senior member of the Choir is the Rev. T. E. Brown, who joined it in 1863.

The Choral Society was started in 1865.

In 1868 a concert was given at Easter to start a fund for providing an organ in Big School. At this concert the "Masters' Quartett" was introduced for the first time. The composition was Hatton's "When Evening's Twilight;" voices, Rev. P. A. Phelps, Mr. W. F. Trinnell, Rev. B. Hartnell, Rev. T. E. Brown.

At Christmas, 1869, we had the first singing of "Auld Lang Syne." After many delays, an attempt was made in 1873 to use the new organ at the concert. The attempt was a failure: owing to the negligence of the builders, Messrs Willis, the stops would not draw, or promptly went in again. The whole affair was a very ludicrous and somewhat memorable fiasco.

At Easter, 1874, the organ was ready for use. It bears a brass plate, with the inscription, "Presented by the Clifton College Choral Society, Christmas, 1873." The cost was mainly defrayed by the Choral Society out of funds arising from their concerts.

The orchestra was begun in 1876; it consisted of two first violins, two second violins, one violoncello. In 1877 a flute and a double-bass were added.

The Choral Society has, on two occasions at least, given a concert at the Scientific Soirée of the Bristol Museum—in 1876 and 1878. It has also given concerts in St. Agnes' School-room—in 1882, 1883, and 1884.

The association of our music with the late Dr. Wesley is a memory of which the School may well be proud. In 1873 and 1874 Dr. Wesley wrote two anthems for us—one, that which we now use at Commemoration; the other a more elaborate composition to the same words. Some extracts from his correspondence with Mr. Trimmell will be found characteristic of the great musician—

October, 1873: "My reason for not liking to set the words ['Let us now praise famous men,' etc.], is this—I don't like much solo-singing in church."

A more difficult setting was first composed, the doctor often referring to the fact that the words had "proved a hard task." This form of the anthem was intended for a professional Choir. Upon its unsuitability being represented to Dr. Wesley, he wrote the anthem which we now use, the words only being the same.

November, 1873, he writes: "I hope I have not left out any words. One word I know I have; but I did not think it mattered, or I would have put it in. It is the word 'for,' in ver. 14. Oddly enough, Handel left out that word in his setting of the verse. It occurs in one of his Chandos Anthems, and used to be sung at Royal funerals. I did not think I should ever have set words which are all about mankind." (The italics are ours.)

In July, 1874, Mr. Trimnell received the easier anthem, which we now sing at Commemoration; "I now send the second anthem I have composed to the words—the difficult words you gave me. I assure you they have proved a hard task. I am pleased with what I send, and hope it will suit your young warblers."

The Scientific Society was founded on June 25, 1869. The first President was Dr. Debus, and the first Secretary was J. F. M. H. Stone. Canon Kingsley delivered the first lecture to the Society.

The Society holds its meetings on alternate Thursdays in the Michaelmas and Lent terms. Papers are read or lectures are delivered at the fortnightly meetings by members of the Society or by visitors introduced by the President. The papers and lectures may either be accounts of original observations or investigations, or they may be rather popular or familiar presentations of some branches of scientific knowledge which are outside the School course.

In addition to the fortnightly meetings of the whole Society, sectional meetings for the study of special departments of science, including archæology and local antiquities, are held at intervals determined by the Director of each section.

A Debating Society, which was started by thirteen members of the School-House in the year 1867, was soon afterwards thrown open to the Sixth and Fifth Forms of the School generally. The numbers were sometimes small, but the discussions were often vigorous. Masters came sometimes as visitors, and made speeches, but the management of the Society has always been in the hands of leading members of the Sixth. The meetings were held in the Sixth-Form room, and the Head of the School presided on the Head-Master's stool. In 1872 an important change was made in the constitution of the Society and the method of its debates. Since that time the debates have been held in imitation of the House of Commons, the Head of the School presiding as Speaker. The subject is proposed by a Right Honourable Member, who gets together a Government to carry his measure, whilst some late Prime Minister leads the Opposition. When the House discusses private business in Committee, some of the best impromptu speaking is heard. A minute entered in the book soon after the change records a vote of censure on two members for reading their speeches! Latterly it has been the custom to meet every other Saturday in the School Library, and fags can be brought in as visitors by members of the Sixth.

Most of the Houses also have Debating Societies. House Readings have long been a feature of Saturday evenings in the Houses. The Head of the House invites some Master to come and read in the Hall. These Readings have always been very popular. In some Houses Masters have organized entertainments at these times, but only occasionally. In some cases members of the House take part in these entertainments, both in reading and singing.

In 1878 a Society was founded for reading (not construing) French and German Literature; President, the Rev. T. E. Brown. In 1879 this was succeeded by a French and German Debating Society; President, Dr. Sheldon. After Dr. Sheldon's leaving Clifton the meetings of the Society were discontinued.

In 1886 a French Debating Society was started by M. Bévenot; it has met weekly through the two winter terms, and its debates have been largely attended, and full of interest.

In 1887 an Art-Master was appointed to take charge of all the artistic education of the School.

CHAPTER IX.

THE ROYAL CHARTER.

THE most important event that has taken place in the history of the College is unquestionably the granting to the College of a Royal Charter. The success attained by the College made it apparent to the Council that, if it was to maintain its position as a Public School, and be secure against its revenues being used as a source of proprietary profit, it was pressingly necessary that some great change should take place in its constitution. With this view they were unanimously of opinion that the constitution best suited to obtain for it public respect, and to allow of its development, would be a Royal Charter of Incorporation. The overtures that had taken place with this view a few years previously had been unsuccessful, through the unwillingness of the then Government to grant any new Charters, but the overtures now made were more favourably received, and the Council were encouraged to hope that, if the shareholders would be willing to concur with their view, and to sell or surrender such proprietary rights as they possessed for the permanent benefit of the College, their prayer for the Charter would receive most favourable consideration. A scheme was accordingly drafted, by which it was proposed that the following should be the main lines of the new Constitution :—

- (1) A new College to consist of Life Governors and Donors, on a plan similar to that which has proved so eminently successful at Marlborough.
- (2) A payment of £50 to be the qualification of the Life Governors.
- (3) The Life Governors to elect the governing body, and to enjoy during life the privilege (not transferable) of always keeping one boy as nominee in the College, in respect of each £50 subscribed.
- (4) Donors of £15 or £20, as may be determined, to have the right of nominating one boy for each Donation.
- (5) The Council to have power to admit boys at an extra fee of £5 per annum in lieu of a Donation.

Very great care was taken in the preparation of the draft embodying the above. The insertion of a Conscience Clause was also decided upon. Beyond the above provisions, the constitution of the College as laid down in its Articles of Association needed little change, and a scheme for a Charter founded upon them and the above-named provisions was carefully drawn. At length the draft of the proposed Charter was approved by the Council at a meeting held on November 17, 1876, and placed in the hands of counsel for formal arrangement, and on the 28th of the same month the draft of a petition for the Charter was adopted. On December 18, a special General Meeting of the Shareholders of the old Company was held, when it was unanimously resolved that the Company should be dissolved and wound up voluntarily, and its property placed in the hands of a liquidator, who was authorized to transfer its properties and rights to the Company proposed to be constituted and incorporated by Royal Charter, the petition for which had been presented. The necessary confirmation to these resolutions was given at a second meeting held on January 5, 1877, and the preliminaries for the change thereby completed.

On March 13 information was received that the Charter had gone to the Home Office for completion, and that the warrant to affix the Great Seal had been signed by Her Majesty. The Royal Charter of Incorporation, bearing date March 16, 1877, was shortly after received.

After the annual distribution of prizes on the morning of July 24, 1877, at which the President of the College, the Earl of Ducie, took the Chair, a luncheon, given by the Council to commemorate the granting of the Charter, was held in the Gymnasium.

The public spirit of the shareholders, which made it possible for this great change in the status of the School to be effected, and the importance of the change, is commented on by the Report of the Council read to the Governors on March 16, 1878.

REPORT FOR 1877.

The Council of the College have to lay before the Governors their Report for the year, and it has seemed to them specially appropriate to do so on this the anniversary of the date on which the Royal Charter of Incorporation was granted to the College, viz. March 16, 1877. The circumstances relating to that event have been, by the natural course of business, so prominently brought to the notice of the Governors, that it would appear, perhaps, unnecessary to enlarge further upon them. The Council would, therefore, only desire to record in this their first report under the altered conditions, how greatly the College has been indebted to the forbearance and public spirit of the original Governors (lately shareholders in the College) for the surrender of their pecuniary interests, and the cordial and generous support which they have given to the Council in their efforts to obtain the Charter, without which such a fundamental change, however desirable, would have been impracticable. The difficulties in the way of effecting the desired object were, as is known, very great, and seemed at one time almost insurmountable; but as far as the action of the late proprietors of the College could go, the work of the Council has always been made most simple and pleasant. The Council have therefore, at length, the satisfaction of congratulating the Governors that the College which their public spirit projected in 1860 has been, by their sustained efforts, in the short space of seventeen years, placed in a satisfactory financial position, cleared of all sign or mark of a limited commercial enterprise, and has become indeed one of the great chartered Public Schools of the country.

CHAPTER X.

THE BOARDING-HOUSES.

IN September, 1862, the School-House was the only boarding-house. It was erected on the site of the old Gardener's Arms, a well-known country public-house. Mr. Wilson succeeded Dr. Percival in the occupation of this house in April, 1879. The School-House Tutors have been: Mr. Dakyns, from September, 1862, to October, 1862; Mr. C. H. Wright, from December, 1862, to December, 1863; Rev. R. B. Poole, from January, 1864, to April, 1865; Mr. W. R. Collyer, from April, 1865, to July, 1867; Mr. F. M. Bartholomew, from September, 1869, to 1877; Mr. W. W. Asquith, from 1877 to the present time.

A small boarding-house was opened in September, 1862, under the Rev. T. H. Stokoe; when he left, in July, 1863, his boys went into the School-House. Mr. Blackader also had a few boys in Cambridge Terrace; when he left, in 1865, his boys went into Mr. Brown's house.

In September, 1864, a boarding-house was opened under the Rev. T. E. Brown, Mr. Dakyns waiving his seniority; in July, 1865, it had thirty-one boys in it. It stands on College ground, and is the property of the College. Mr. Tait was appointed House-Tutor in September, 1876, and was succeeded by Mr. Fairbanks in January, 1877. In 1882 an addition was made to this house of the westernmost block, containing the House-Tutor's rooms, and the dormitory over them.

In March, 1868, Mr. Hartnell's house was opened for forty boys. His House-Tutors have been: Mr. Luckman till 1880, and subsequently Mr. Pridden, Mr. Mackenzie, Mr. Tillard, and Mr. Wilson.

College Gate was built (with Mr. Brown's house) in 1864, and opened in January, 1865, for the use of bachelor Masters; the School Marshal, John Skelton, was entrusted with its management. This he resigned in July, 1866.

In October, 1864, Olden Lodge was purchased by the Council. Mr. Dakyns occupied it from April, 1865, as the third boarding-house, till August, 1867, when he gave up the house to Mr. Cay. He was succeeded by Mr. Poole, who occupied the house as a Junior School Boarding-house till July, 1877, when he was appointed Head-Master of the Modern School, Bedford. He was succeeded by Mr. Phelps, who, in April, 1885, accepted a living in Bristol. Mr. Laxton succeeded to the occupation of the house, and in the summer of the same year the house was largely added to: the additions include the large dormitory and the House-Tutor's room, and a boys' sitting-room. Mr. Bradshaw was appointed House-Tutor in January, 1886.

In September, 1867, Mr. C. H. Cay opened a house which he had built on College land, by a special arrangement with the Council, Mr. Dakyns having once more waived his seniority. Mr. Cay died in December, 1869, and was succeeded by Mr. Dakyns. Mr. Dakyns occupied the house till April, 1881, when he gave it up, and received leave of absence for three years. Mr. Bartholomew took the house in April, 1881. Mr. Laxton was House-Tutor from April, 1881, to April, 1885, and Mr. Mackenzie, from April, 1885, to the present date.

In 1869 a house, now Mr. Grenfell's, then intended for a private house, was adapted as a boarding-house, and arrangements made by Mr. J. M. Marshall for its occupation. He, however, left before it was opened as a boarding-house, and it was taken by the Rev. E. Harris, who opened it in January, 1870. Mr. Harris left in December, 1876, on being appointed to the Head-Mastership of Exeter Grammar School, and was succeeded by Mr. E. M. Oakeley. Mr. Oakeley resigned the house in December, 1883, and was succeeded by Mr. J. G. Grenfell. In the summer of 1884 a large addition was made to the house by Mr. Oakeley—the whole of the western block was added, as well as an enlargement of the hall and Tutor's room. Mr. Collins was House-Tutor to Mr. Harris from May, 1871, to December, 1872; Mr. Tarver was House-Tutor from September, 1881, to September, 1885; and Mr. Tillard, from September, 1885, to the present date.

In 1873 some land between Mr. Dakyns's house and College Gate was granted to Mr. T. W. Dunn as a site for a boarding-house. This boarding-house was opened in the first term of 1874, with about twenty-five boys, several of whom had been with Mr. Dunn the term before, in a house in Canynge Square. In April, 1878, Mr. Dunn left for the Head-Mastership of Bath College, and was succeeded by the Rev. H. J. Wiseman, who brought with him the boys of his small House. Mr. W. O. Moberly was House-Tutor to Mr. Dunn from January, 1874, to April, 1878, and remained with Mr. Wiseman.

In September, 1878, Mr. Wiseman, who had been building a new house, transferred his boys to it, and was accompanied by Mr. Moberly as House-Tutor. Mr. Moberly resigned the House-Tutorship in July, 1883, and was succeeded by Mr. Harrison. In July, 1887, Mr. Harrison left the House, and was succeeded by Mr. E. H. C. Smith.

The House left by Mr. Wiseman in September, 1878, was taken by Mr. Watson, who opened with forty boys, about half of whom had been with him at Nos. 1 and 2, Cecil Road. In 1882 Mr. Watson's house was enlarged by the addition of a wing, which gave increased dormitory and sick-room accommodation, and a House library. Mr. E. H. C. Smith was House-Tutor from September, 1878, to December, 1883; Mr. A. T. Martin from January, 1884, to July, 1885; Mr. C. H. Spence from September, 1885, to the present time.

The Preparatory School Boarding-house was established in 1874, in Northcote Road, under Mr. Mansfield. He was succeeded by Mr. Locke in September, 1877. The House was transferred to No. 10, Upper Belgrave Road, in September, 1880. Mr. Locke was succeeded by Mr. Martin in September, 1885.

Small Houses, intended mainly for delicate boys, but used also as waiting-houses for others, have been held by the following Masters:—

Mr. Begbie	1864—1865
„ Dakyns	1868—1869
„ Grenfell	1871—1884
„ Watson	1871—1878
„ Wiseman	1872—1878
„ Moor	1878—1880
„ Tait	1880—1884

Mr. Mansfield	1880—1883
„ Moberly	1883	} to the present date.
„ Carter	1884

Small boarding-houses in connection with the Junior School have been held by—

Mr. Poole	1864—1867
„ Phelps	1868—1877
„ Mansfield	1877—1879
„ Luckman	1880 to the present date.

In January, 1878, the Head-Master reported to the Council that, in connection with communications received from Lionel L. Cohen, Esq., on behalf of some of the leading members of the Jewish community, asking if certain facilities could be granted to enable their sons to attend the College, he had arranged with Mr. Bernhard Heymann, a gentleman experienced in the training of boys, to receive ten Jewish boys into his house to attend the College, and that Mr. Heymann was about to take a house in Clifton for the purpose, which would be under the supervision of the Head-Master and the discipline of the School, as other Houses. Mr. Heymann's house was accordingly opened in May, 1878. The number of boys was subsequently increased to fourteen.

There is no institution connected with Clifton College which is more original and valuable than the organization of the day boys as "Houses."

This organization was first undertaken, at Dr. Percival's suggestion, in September, 1874. A division into North and South Towns was determined on, the boundary being as far as possible the continuation of a line passing through the School Chapel from East to West. For the first two terms, although the two Towns were under the charge of different Masters—Mr. Tait, Mr. Moor, Mr. Proctor, and Mr. Phillips—and had to some extent a separate organization, they continued to act together as one body for all School purposes. A similar division of North and South Towns was also made in the Junior School.

In April, 1875, the Town was finally divided into two independent bodies—North Town under the charge of Mr. Wiseman, and South Town under that of Mr. Tait. Mr. Wiseman was succeeded in 1877 by Mr. Wollaston; Mr. Tait held his position till Christmas, 1880, and resumed it in January, 1885. During this interval Mr. Carter was Tutor of the South Town.

In 1878 the Head-Master sanctioned the extension of the Boarding-house Tutor system to the South Town, and a weekly evening Preparation was established for all boys below the Fifth.

In 1887, as chronicled above, on February 19, the Town rooms were formally opened in presence of the boys and a large number of parents, who then adjourned to suppers, given by Mr. Tait and Mr. Wollaston, in the Gymnasium and Big School respectively.

In the Summer term of 1880 the "United House" was started. This includes all the boarders in the small Houses (at present Mr. Heymann's, Mr. Moberly's, and Mr. Carter's) in one organization for games and discipline. If no member of these Houses is in the Sixth Form, a head is appointed by the Sixth out of their own number. Previously to 1880, these Houses, and other small Houses, had been attached to the North and South Towns.

CHAPTER XI.

FOUNDATIONS OF SCHOLARSHIPS AND EXHIBITIONS AND PRIZES.

THIS will be but a short chapter.

The Guthrie Scholarship of £50, open to any one under seventeen, was founded in July, 1865, by the Council, in memory of the late Canon Guthrie.

The Cay Mathematical Scholarship of £20 was founded in 1874 by friends of the late Mr. C. H. Cay.

The Percival Scholarship of £20 was founded in March, 1880, out of subscriptions raised by old Cliftonians.

The Modern Language Scholarship of £20 was founded in May, 1881, by members of the Jewish faith, in recognition of the establishment of a boarding-house for Jewish boys.

One hundred pounds was given in March, 1874, by Mr. W. K. Wait, for annual prizes, to encourage the study of Geography.

The Merchant Venturers give an annual prize of £5 for the encouragement of Natural Science.

Fifty pounds was subscribed by some of the Masters in June, 1882, to establish some Fox prizes for Science, in place of prizes hitherto given by Dr. E. Long Fox, who was at that time resigning his post of medical attendant to the College.

An Exhibition was offered in 1885, by the City and Guilds of London Institute, to give free education in the Technical College in South Kensington. This Exhibition is to be continued for six years.

The present system of Scholarships and Exhibitions to the Universities was adopted in 1875, and the Head and Assistant Masters at the same time established an Augmentation Fund. This has continued with no important modification till the present time.

A list of the Exhibitioners, and of the Guthrie, Cay, Percival, and Modern Language scholars is here given.

CHAPTER XII.

SCHOOL HONOURS.

THE most convenient method of putting before the reader a view of the honours won by the School at the Universities and elsewhere will be to reprint the lists of honours for each year as they stand on the honour-boards of the School. This is the more desirable since the whole of one side and half of the other side of Big School is filled with the honours of the last twenty-five years, and the problem has already begun to occupy the minds of the School—What will be done when the honour-boards are full ?

But it should not be thought that the honours of the School are limited to such distinctions as these. Many of the following names have won far greater distinctions by their good work in the world than by the scholarships and classes here recorded ; and there are very many whose names are unrecorded here who have won, and are winning, honour for the School that sent them out.

Here follows the list in two parallel columns—the left-hand side one being the honours won direct from School, the right-hand one those won by old Cliftonians :—

CHAPTER XIII.

THE GAMES.

A COMPLETE history of the games of the School would involve an account of all the outdoor life of the place since its foundation; it will, therefore, be impossible to give here anything more than the barest outline of their growth and development. The most interesting part of such a chronicle would be that relating to the earliest years, when the games were taking shape under the guidance and management of the early leaders of the School; but, unfortunately, no written record exists, and we have to depend on the memories of those who were in the School during the years 1862-1867. Ever since the latter date an authentic and continuous history of the games may be read in the pages of the Cliftonian, and it will not be necessary to notice in this chapter anything further than the more important changes, improvements, and additions there recorded. One preliminary remark it may be worth while to make. Ever since the School began, the games have been regarded as an essential part of the education of the place, and it has always been part of the unwritten constitution of the School to keep games and work so harmoniously combined as to avoid anything like a division into those that work and those that play; and on these lines the development of the games has been fairly successful.

Football.

The games of the School began with football in the Winter term of 1862, and this was organized on the Rugby system by Wellesley, the first Head of the School, and the first Cap, with the help of Mr. Dakyns. The matches played in the first few years were all school games with the exception of one match against Marlborough College, played at Marlborough in the year 1864, in which our opponents had the best of the game. A quotation referring to this match may here be made from a letter received from a Cliftonian who was one of the combatants: "The game certainly had the appearance of a hostile encounter rather than a friendly football match. However, all differences and grievances were forgotten during the jovial supper with which we ended the day in the hall at Marlborough, and all finished pleasantly." By the year 1867 the regular School games, Sixth v. School, Classical v. Modern, School-House v. School, Eleven and Twenty-two v. School, with others of a more scratch character, such as A to K v. The Rest, were in full swing. Other matches have since been added to the list. Foreign matches have always been few; in 1866 and 1867 Mr. D'A. B. Collyer brought down a team of old Rugbeians from Oxford; in 1868 Mr. W. R. Collyer brought a team against the School; and since the year 1872 there have always been two or three each season. The first match against the Clifton Club was played in 1874, and since that date it has been an annual event. Other foreign matches have been against teams from Oxford, representing occasionally the O.U.R.U.F.C., but more often they have been scratch teams brought down by some old Cliftonian. The match against the old Cliftonians at the end of the Christmas term has been played from a very early date, whenever the weather has permitted. It is impossible to give a detailed account of all these matches, but a brief analysis of the results of the most important of them may be of interest. In the Sixth v. School, the Sixth has won six times, the School twelve; the match has only twice been drawn. The first time the Sixth won was in 1875, and it may be mentioned here that in 1871 the numbers playing in this match were limited to twenty a side, exclusive of old Cliftonians, the game up to that date having been a general encounter. In the Classical v. Modern, the Classical have won eight times, the Modern four; there have been seven draws. The Clifton Club matches have been won by the Club, except on five occasions, when the match has been drawn; in 1886 there were two matches, one of which was drawn; the other we lost.

In 1868 House ties were first instituted, the School-House having hitherto always played the School in its own right. For the first three years the School-House was Cock House, but in 1871 Brown's won that distinction for the first time. Other first successes of this kind have been that of Dakyns's in 1875, when it was bracketed with the School-House, that of Harris's in 1876, and in 1881 Bartholomew's (Dakyns's) repeated their success of 1875 without a bracket. In 1877 the present system of scoring in House matches was introduced.

In 1879 Big Side was divided into the two grounds which now go by the names of First and Second Big Side ; all Big Side games up to this date having been played on the whole space now occupied by the two grounds.

In 1878 the Rugby Union Rule was adopted, which limits the number of players to fifteen a side—a change which was thought necessary in order to keep our football up to the requirements of the modern game.

No mention has been made of School and House Little Sides, but these, it must not be forgotten, have always formed a very essential part of our football ; and as to the School Little Sides, we may add that they do not yet seem to have attained to their ultimate form.

We may finish our account of the football with a very few words on the “Caps,” and certain important changes which have been attempted in connection with them. As has been stated above, the football was organized on the Rugby system, according to which the cap is a House distinction given by the Sixth Form in each House. Hence the caps have always been House caps. In 1866 black caps were instituted as a School distinction, but these, proving unsatisfactory, were abolished in 1868, and badges on the jersey were invented in their place. The badges, however, disappeared in their turn in 1873, and nothing has as yet taken their place. Several experimental changes in the method of giving caps have been made by way of satisfying a not unnatural desire to have some School football distinction, but none has proved entirely unobjectionable, and things have now returned to their original condition.

Cricket.

The cricket of the School began in the Summer term of 1863, under the captaincy of J. F. Walker, and even at that early date the Eleven contained several excellent cricketers, and among them C. B. L. and E. F. S. Tylecote. The clubs against whom the School played in those early days were the Clifton, Lansdowne, Stoke Bishop, Knole Park, Frenchay, Sherborne School (first played 1865), and besides these the Incogniti and an Oxford College or two; and among the celebrities who played against us in one or other of these matches were E. M., W. G., and G. F. Grace, F. Townsend, C. J. Brune, D. Pontifex, H. Ross, F. R. Price, R. F. Miles, and E. W. M. Lloyd. Some of these matches have become regular fixtures, and others have since been added. We must not omit to mention the match v. old Cliftonians, which was at first played at the end of the Summer term, but has now for many years been played on the two days of the Guthrie Commemoration. The most important additions have been the M.C.C. match (August 7, 1871), the Liverpool match (May 13 and 14, 1872), and the Cheltenham match (June 3 and 4, 1872). In 1875, 1883, 1884, 1885, there were two matches against the M.C.C.—one at Clifton, and the other at Lord's; and in 1880, 1886, 1887, there was none. In 1874 there was a match against the Surrey Club and Ground at the Oval, which we won easily on the first innings; and in 1887 this match was substituted for our usual one at Lord's: we lost the match by fifty-six runs. From 1871 to 1878 a match against Upper Tooting followed the M.C.C. match. Of these matches we won six, lost one, and one was drawn in favour of Upper Tooting. The results of the most important of the matches mentioned above have been as follows: Of the Clifton Club matches, the School has won seven, lost twelve, and three have been drawn; in the years 1869 and 1870 there were two Clifton Club matches. Of the Knole Park matches, the School has won six, lost seven, and two have been drawn; from 1866 to 1873 there was no match. Of the Liverpool matches, the School has won two, lost nine, and five have been drawn. Of the M.C.C. matches, the School has won three, lost thirteen, and two have been drawn. The old Cliftonian matches have nearly always been left unfinished, but the School has won three times—in 1867, 1870, 1871, and the old Cliftonians have won once—in 1879. Of our matches against Cheltenham we have won eight, lost four, and drawn four. Of those against Sherborne we have won fourteen, lost four, drawn four; the first match, in 1865, ended in a tie; up to the year 1875 this was a one-day's match; there was no match in 1872. In 1881 and 1882 matches were played against the Free Foresters; both were drawn.

The highest innings ever played by the School in a foreign match was 502, in the match v. Cheltenham, in the year 1877. The largest scores were G. S. Saxton, 104; A. H. Evans, 90; H. F. Fox, 75; G. J. Younghusband, 72; and C. Haynes, 60. The highest individual innings in a foreign match is W. E. Dunsford's 195* against the old Cliftonians in 1878; the second highest is W. Evershed's 185 against University College in 1881; the highest in our Public School matches is A. H. Heath's 164* against Cheltenham in 1875, when there was one wicket down for 109, and two for 316.

A short account of the first Cheltenham match will not be out of place. It was played on our own ground on Monday and Tuesday, June 3 and 4. Cheltenham went in first at eleven o'clock, and were all out for 100 by 1.30. We began batting after luncheon, and at first things looked very bad for us, as we had five of our best wickets down for 13; but then F. Taylor joined H. C. Baxter, who had gone in second wicket down, and these two were not parted till they had raised the score to 86, when Baxter was bowled after "a splendid innings" of 30. Taylor was out last at 200, of which he himself had made 98. To quote from the Cliftonian, "His 98 will be long remembered in the cricketing annals of this place." In their second innings Cheltenham made 162, leaving us 63 to get to win; which was done with the loss of four wickets. The winning hit was made at 3.30.

The history of the school games in cricket has been much the same, mutatis mutandis, as that of those in football. The regular Big Side games have been from the first Sixth v. School, Classical v. Modern, The Eleven v. The Twenty-two, the School v. Masters; with others of a more moveable character, such as Choir v. School, North v. South side of Chapel, and the like. House ties were instituted in 1868, and first played in 1869. For the first three years the School-House was Cock House; in 1872 Brown's gained this position for the first time; in 1876 Harris's; in 1883 Bartholomew's.

The following is a short resumé of the results of the more important Big Side games, so far as can be gleaned from existing records:—In the Sixth v. School, the Sixth have won six times, lost eight; there was a tie in 1878, and the rest have been drawn. In Classical v. Modern, the Classical have won fourteen times, lost once; no record exists of matches in 1871, 1877, 1879, 1881, 1886. It was in this match in 1868 that E. F. S. Tylecote made his score of 404 not out. The Eleven v. Twenty-two match has been finished only five times, and on each occasion in favour of the Twenty-two. The Masters' match has been finished only six times; the Masters have won four times, the School twice.

A challenge prize for fielding in the Eleven has been given for many years. This prize, a clock, was presented to the school by Mr. Collins and Mr. Moberly. Also Mr. Wiseman has from time to time given a bat for the greatest improvement below old colours in the Eleven: this has now been combined with the fielding prize.

A characteristic feature of our cricket has been the Form ties, played on half-holidays; these began in 1869, and have been a flourishing institution ever since, and have contributed largely to the growth of sound cricket amongst us. Other cricket arrangements which deserve a passing notice are the House and Form nets; the former of which were reorganized in 1884, so as to provide some cricket training for those below colours, instead of being, as they had hitherto tended to become, the scene of promiscuous slogging and erratic bowling. Also it may be mentioned that in 1872 the rule was made enforcing playing in flannels on half-holiday afternoons.

Fives and Racquets.

The history of the fives and racquets of the School is practically contained in the history of the building of the different courts, and may be gathered from the chapter on the buildings. Little, therefore, need be said here. In the early days the two open hand fives-courts, which used to stand near the present site of the Town Rooms, were the most popular; indeed, some of the best players the School has turned out learnt all their play in them. The way these courts were "taken" was, if not decorous, at all events exciting. The court was held as taken by the fellow who first hit the front wall above the line with a fives-ball; the consequence of this arrangement was a rush and generally a dispute. The court might be retaken at the end of every game. "Game-ball," therefore, became doubly exciting both for the actual players and the onlookers, as each one was ready to take the court the moment the game was finished, or even before. Bat-fives also was a very popular game, and so important was it considered that, to quote from a letter received from an excellent and enthusiastic player of that time, "Small, the professional racquet-player (next best to Gray in those days), was engaged to improve bat-fives." This game was further encouraged by a prize given by Mr. W. R. Collyer for an open competition, and by one given by Mr. Dakyns, open to those under sixteen. Hand-fives has also received similar encouragement at different times from Mr. Cay, Mr. Brown, Mrs. Killigrew Wait, Mr. Bartholomew, and old Cliftonians. The first year any such prizes were offered was 1863.

The old open racquet-court, since converted into covered fives-courts, saw our first attempts at racquets, which were similarly encouraged by Mr. W. R. Collyer ; and this prize only ceased to be given in 1873, on the request of Big Side Levée, when the conditions of the game seemed to that body no longer to merit such an encouragement. The prize was kindly transferred by the donor to some event in the athletics. Of the present racquet-court it need only be said that the School owes the existence of it very largely to the exertions of Mr. Bartholomew ; and it should be added that we first sent representatives up to Prince's for the Public School Competition in 1886 ; these were A. Read and J. R. Head.

House ties in these various games have been in existence since December, 1869 ; this, at all events, is the earliest recorded mention of such a competition.

Runs and Hockey.

The runs began in the first term of 1863. We may give here a quotation from a letter received from one of the early Heads of the School : " In the first term of 1863 runs were organized by Wellesley with a good deal of vigour, and I believe the Penpole and Horfield countries were pretty thoroughly explored." There is a tradition that the earliest pioneers were the Head-Master and Mr. Dakyns. For the first ten years the runs were regular paper-chases, in which the hounds started with a real desire and intention to catch the hares (once only were the hares overtaken in a ditch), and there was a genuine race between the hounds as to who should come in first and soonest after the hares. Marks were awarded to each competitor according to the place and time in which he came in, the limit of time being within five minutes after the first in; these were added up at the end of the season, and the fellow who had the highest marks became the Holder of Big Side bags for that year; a cup also was attached to this dignity. At first the whole School ran together, and those who came in were divided into two sets, there being two prizes, one open to all, the other for those under fifteen; but in 1871 the runs were divided into Big Side and Little Side. In course of time this system wore itself out, attendance became irregular and scanty, and in 1873 the pack system was instituted. By this system the School, for running purposes, was divided into two packs, an upper and a lower, and each was put under the charge of a huntsman, assisted by two or more whips. The old "run cup" was appropriated to the winner in one run of the Upper Pack over the Long Penpole course: this was the origin of "The Long Penpole." The old "run cup for those under fifteen" was appropriated to the winner in one run of the Lower Pack over the Short Penpole course: this was the origin of "The Short Penpole."

This system has been in existence with varying success ever since, and has received further developments, all tending to make the runs at once more possible and palatable for all ages and sizes. At first the packs were only two, and all were bound to run in either one or the other; but in February, 1881, hockey on the downs was organized as a School game for those who, by doctor's orders, were not allowed to run. In 1882, the hockey not proving satisfactory, a third pack was substituted for it, and for a time the hockey ceased to exist; it was, however, soon revived for the benefit of those whom the doctor's orders did not allow to join even the third pack.

The first winner of the Long Penpole was T. W. Lang, who ran it in 1 hr. 17 min. The shortest time in which the race has been run is 1 hr. 2 min. 55 sec.; the winner that year, 1885, was A. W. Peck. It must be mentioned here that the course in Lang's year was at least a mile longer, and had a stiff piece known as the Green Hill; but, owing to difficulties with a farmer which seemed to be insuperable, this part of the course had to be omitted. This will partly account for the great difference in the two times here recorded. The first hares in this race were Mr. Bartholomew and a friend. The numbers of those who have "come in" within the regulation ten minutes after the winner have varied considerably in different years: the largest number recorded is forty-three, in 1882; and the smallest, sixteen, in 1875. The length of the course, as now fixed, measures 9 miles 7 fur. The distance of the Short Penpole is 7 miles 7 fur. 20 yds. The shortest time in which it has been run is 50 min., by A. Read. These careful and accurate measurements we owe to A. C. St. Paul (O.C.), who has also presented the School with an admirable map of the course, which now hangs in the Gymnasium.

House cup runs were also instituted at an early date in some Houses for those under sixteen; other Houses give their junior House cup to that member of the House who comes in first in the Short Penpole.

In 1885 House hockey on the downs was substituted for the House Little Side runs before dinner on whole-school days; and this change has been productive of a marked improvement in the hockey.

Athletic Sports.

The Athletic Sports were first held in 1863. In 1867 the Challenge Cup was presented to the School by the old Cliftonians, and was won on the first occasion by E. F. S. Tylecote, who won the first prize in the mile, half-mile, hurdle race, and grand steeplechase, and the second in the high and broad jumps. In 1868 a system of marks for the Challenge Cup was adopted, which, with slight alterations, is still in use. Three events occur in the original list which have since disappeared—the 300 yards, the grand steeplechase, throwing at wicket; of these the last named has gone beyond recall, for the 300 yards has been substituted the quarter-mile, and, for the steeplechase, the long hurdles. This steeplechase, it may be interesting to record, was over a course all round Big Side, rendered preternaturally arduous by artificially constructed hedges and ditches, one of the latter being filled with water for the occasion. The Long Penpole has, of course, been added to the list of marked events. The prize for the mile has, from the first, been given by the Head-Master, and that for the high jump by Mr. Brown.

The swimming races have been an event of the Summer term from the year 1867. Till our own baths were constructed, they were held in the Victoria Baths. The events in the original races were 12 lengths, 4 lengths, object-diving, long diving, open to all ; and 6 lengths, open to those under 5 ft. 2 in. These have since been added to, and the long diving has been given up, as it was found to be dangerous.

The Gymnasium.

The gymnastic competition was first held on December 19, 1868. Two prizes were given, a gold and a silver medal, the first of which was gained by P. W. Cruttwell, and the second by E. J. Davies. The next record of any such event is in the first term of 1873, when there was a competition for admission into the First and Second Eights, and also a competition between members of the First Eight for the silver medal given by the School, and since that date the competition has been annual. In 1883 a competition between House Fours was instituted. In April, 1884, we sent up two representatives, A. Lazenby and J. S. Owen, to the Public Schools Competition, held at Aldershot. We won the third place on the list, Wellington being first, and Marlborough second ; and in the following year we won the second place on the list, our representatives being J. S. Owen and A. G. Penny. This is now an annual event.

The Engineer Corps.

The youngest, but by no means the least important or successful, of our games is the Engineer Cadet Corps, which started in December, 1875, with one hundred members, and was attached for War Office requirements to the Bristol Engineer Volunteers, of which Colonel E.

C. Plant was the commanding officer. It is perhaps worth recording that ever since the foundation of the corps, it has been the wish and endeavour of those connected with it, that it should take rank as one of the games of the School, and not as part of the lessons, and that it should as far as possible have the same organization as the other games. Mr. Carter was the first honorary Captain; and in October, 1876, the first School-Captain was appointed, R. E. Younghusband, then Head of the School. In July, 1876, was the first annual inspection; in this term also a Shooting Eleven was first formed. In 1877 Mr. Carter presented a Challenge Cup to the company, which was first competed for on March 6 of that year, the conditions being seven shots at 200 and 500 yards, with the short Snider, the rifle with which the corps was then armed. It was won on this occasion by M. O. Norris. Other shooting prizes are—A. W. Paul's (O.C.) Challenge Cup for House Fours, for which the first competition was in 1879; First Average Score Cup, given by the Head-Master; second ditto, by Mr. Dakyns; third ditto, by Colonel Plant; Efficients' Cup, given by Mr. Watson; Recruits' Cup, given by Mr. Jupp. In May, 1877, occurred the first recorded match; this was between an eleven of the School and an eleven of the officers and non-commissioned officers of the 2nd G.E.V.C., in which the latter eleven won by 83 points. In December, 1877, Mr. Carter retired from the honorary Captaincy, and was succeeded by Colonel E. C. Plant, to whom the corps and the School owe a large debt for his careful and successful management. In June, 1878, took place the first match against Marlborough College, in which we were beaten by 22 points; and also the first match against the old Cliftonians, which the School won by 19 points. This year saw our first appearance at Wimbledon in the competition for the Ashburton Shield; we won the eighth place, being behind the winners (Eton) by 52 points. In 1879 we shot our first simultaneous matches with Glenalmond and Rugby. Since that date other similar matches have been added to our list—Rossall, Wellington, and Malvern.

At the Wimbledon Meeting in 1880 the Cadet Corps Challenge Trophy was won by R. Percival and W. H. Veale. On July 9, 1881, the whole corps went, as part of the battalion, to the Windsor Review, leaving the Quadrangle at 5.45 a.m., and reaching home again about 5.30 a.m. the next day, after a most fatiguing but successful day. In 1881 we had our first match with Cheltenham College, and won by 10 points. On October 15, 1882, we attended our first Church parade at Bristol Cathedral. In the same year, on the occasion of the visit of the Duke and Duchess of Edinburgh to the Bristol Musical Festival, our corps was chosen to form a guard of honour on the platform of Bristol Station at their departure. The year 1884 was a memorable one in the annals of the School, for we won both the Ashburton Shield and the Spencer Cup at Wimbledon; the members of the successful eight were H. C. Lewis, R. H. Luce, H. V. James, R. T. Rees, A. V. MacIver Campbell, G. P. Greene, E. G. Burr, R. S. Giles (captain). The highest individual score was 55, made both by Giles and Luce; the total was 364. The Spencer Cup was won by R. H. Luce, with 28 points. The eight, on their return home, were received in triumph in the Quadrangle. We won the Shield a second time in 1885, and the School again gave the winners a most enthusiastic reception. The eight were H. V. James, R. H. Luce, S. G. Rivett-Carnac, F. K. Warren, E. S. Sinnot, C. Beddington, C. E. Lewis, J. M. Probert. The competition of 1884 was the last with the Snider rifle, and that of 1885 the first with the Martini-Henry, the rifle still in use. In April, 1886, the corps went to the Public Schools Field Day at Aldershot; and in the same year, at Wimbledon, we won the Cadet Corps Challenge Trophy a second time, H. S. de Brett and R. W. Versturme being our representatives. On July 9, 1887, we attended the Royal Jubilee Review held before the Queen at Aldershot, and on this occasion the Public Schools Volunteers were formed, for the first time at a review, into a provisional battalion, of which Clifton was the leading company, under School-Captain J. Lang, and did exceedingly well. Colonel Plant was in command of the Brigade of Engineers, and of all the Public Schools Corps.

Big Side Levée.

No account of the games would be complete without some short history of Big Side Levée, which has under its control the management of the games, with the exception of such matters as are considered either to involve discipline, and therefore to belong to the Sixth Form, or to fall within the province of the Captain of the Eleven, or the Captain of the Engineer Corps.

This Levée, as originally constituted by the help and advice of Mr. Dakyns and Mr. Wright, consisted of all members of Big Side, i.e. of all above fags. At the first meeting, held in what is now Mr. Wiseman's School (No. 5) in the first term of 1863, on the proposal of Mr. Dakyns, seconded by Mr. Wright, Masters were excluded from Big Side Levée. The Head of the School is President. There is also mention of a School Levée, which was probably a merely theoretically existing body. In 1866 a Big Side Levée Book was begun, which the President should enter the proceedings in, and "keep for that purpose, and for which he should be responsible to Big Side." This book is in existence, and presents, with some gaps, for which unprincipled past Heads of the School are responsible, a continuous history of the proceedings of this body. On March 30, 1870, an important change was made. The Levée had become larger, and its proceedings somewhat informal, if we may judge from a rule passed March 3, 1868, "that not more than one member speak at a time, and that he rise to speak;" it was therefore considered advisable to reduce its numbers. This was done by substituting a representative assembly. The resolution by which this important change was effected runs thus: "That in place of the present Big Side Levée, there be substituted a representative Levée, consisting of the Head of the School, the Captain of the Eleven, the Senior Badge (since 1873 the Representative of Football), the Holder of the Challenge Cup, ex-officio; from the Classical VI., four members; from the Modern VI., one; from the Upper V., two; from the Lower V., one; from the Modern V., one; from the School-House, two; from Brown's, one; from Dakyns's, one; from Harris's, one." And this, with slight changes and necessary additions, is still the constitution. The Holder of the Challenge Cup has ceased to be an ex-officio member, and the Captain of the Engineer Corps has taken his place ; and one member has been added for the Middle V., one for the M.E. side, one for Wiseman's, one for Watson's, one for South Town, one for North Town, and one for the United House. It must be added that no resolution of Big Side Levée is valid without the approval and signature of the Head-Master.

CHAPTER XIV.

COMMEMORATION.

THE first Guthrie Commemoration was held on May 22, 1868. It consisted of a dinner at the Clifton Down Hotel, Canon Moseley, President of the Council, being in the chair. Several of the Council, the Masters, and old Cliftonians, and a few members of the Sixth Form, were present, about fifty in all.

It is a commemoration of the building of the Chapel, and of "John Guthrie, and Caroline his wife," its founders, and of all other "founders and benefactors, by whose benefit this whole School is brought up to Godliness and good learning."

In 1871 and following years the supper was held in the Gymnasium, and the Head-Master was the chairman. In 1877 it was agreed that in future some distinguished old Cliftonian should always be President. Since 1884 the supper has been held in Big School. This year, 1887, being the completion of the first quarter of a century of the College, it was decided to make an exception to the rule, and invite Dr. Percival to be Chairman. The following is the list of the Presidents down to the present time:—

1868-76—Rev. Dr. Percival.
 1877—T. H. Warren.
 1878—J. A. Neale.
 1879—G. W. Rundall.
 1880—S. C. Buxton.
 1881—S. M. Maycock, R.E.

1882—G. de Lisle Bush.
 1883—Capt. F. A. Bowles, R.A.
 1884—R. B. Don.
 1885—Major G. Pearse.
 1886—Rev. F. W. Goodwyn.
 1887—Rev. Dr. Percival.

It has usually been the custom to invite some one from outside the College to preach the Commemoration Sermon. It will be of interest to give here the list of the preachers.

1868—Rev. Dr. Jex Blake.
 1869—Rev. Professor Campbell.
 1870—Rev. G. G. Bradley.
 1871—Rev. Canon Norris.
 1872—Rev. F. W. Farrar.
 1873—The Lord Bishop of Exeter.
 1874—Rev. A. G. Butler.
 1875—Rev. Dr. Percival.
 1876—Rev. Dr. Abbott.
 1877—Rev. A. H. Sayce.
 1878—Rev. G. C. Bell.

1879—Rev. Dr. Butler.
 1880—Rev. Professor Bonney.
 1881—Hon. and Rev. W. R. Fremantle.
 1882—Rev. Canon Percival.
 1883—Rev. Canon Scott Holland.
 1884—Rev. S. A. Barnett.
 1885—The Lord Bishop of Ripon.
 1886—The Dean of Salisbury.
 1887—Rev. Dr. Percival.

Since 1871 a soirée has been given by the ladies of the College in connection with the Commemoration, to which their friends in Clifton and old Cliftonians are invited. It is scarcely necessary to add that the Commemoration is further celebrated by cricket-matches between several teams of old Cliftonians and the School, and also by shooting-matches; and that it has thus grown into a very pleasant annual reunion of Past and Present.

In this year, 1887, the parents of all the boys in the School, as well as many residents in Clifton and the neighbourhood, were invited by the Council and Masters to a soirée on the evening of Thursday, June 30. The Library and Museum were thrown open, the Physical Science Room was used as the concert-room, the East Cloister and the Library as refreshment-rooms, and the open Cloister was carpeted and illuminated with Chinese lanterns. Big School was used as the reception-room. On the following day there was a large garden-party at the School-House, and the usual supper in Big School.

The year was also marked by a dinner of old Cliftonians, held in London on July 5, at which about two hundred were present.

Closely connected with the Commemoration of 1887 was the Jubilee of her Majesty. It was worthily observed in the College, and a full record of all the proceedings is preserved in a special number of the Cliftonian. It will be sufficient to record here that an address was drawn up for presentation to the Queen, and read to the whole School assembled with the Council and Masters and Masters' families, the College officials, and the Boarding-House servants, in Big School. It was then signed by the Head-Master, and by the Head of the School, C. A. Hooper, and subsequently by the Chairman of the Council, and forwarded to her Majesty.

On Tuesday, June 21, the Head-Master and the Head of the School were present in Westminster Abbey as representatives of the School. Big School, the Library, and all the College Houses were brilliantly illuminated, and the whole School were out from 9.15 to 11 to see all the bonfires and illuminations. On the same day also the Cricket Eleven and the Shooting Eight and the Racquet Pair were invited by Dr. Percival to try strengths with Rugby. Clifton unfortunately lost all three matches.

On Thursday about three hundred of the School went to the grand Service in the nave of the Cathedral, when the Dettingen Te Deum, and the Hymn of Praise, were performed.

Friday was a whole holiday, and the House-Masters organized picnics on a grand scale. The School-House, Mr. Brown's, Mr. Watson's, and the South Town, with the College officials, and about a hundred other visitors chartered a large steamer and went to Porlock and Lynton. Mr. Wiseman's and the small Houses went to Tintern; the North Town to Stinchcombe; Mr. Bartholomew's to Marlborough; Mr. Grenfell's divided into several parties. The Junior School went to Clevedon, and four of their elevens played cricket-matches there. The Preparatory School went to Cadbury. The weather was magnificent, and the day most enjoyable.

On Saturday the whole School went to the Review on the Downs, our own grand stand being erected for the purpose.

CHAPTER XV.

THE COLLEGE MISSION.

THE work that the Masters and boys of Clifton College have endeavoured to do in Bristol is too important an element in its life and in the public estimation in which the College is held to be omitted from our annals. We will not touch here on its religious aspects, but confine ourselves to the task of the annalist and chronicler, giving only an occasional incident or illustration.

In the early days of the Chapel, the offertories were devoted by the Head-Master to various religious and charitable objects. But in the year 1869 it was resolved by Dr. Percival, who associated with himself a committee of Masters, to undertake some one definite object in Bristol. They selected work among neglected boys, and established a ragged school in the Sidney Alley, The Dings. This School was closed when the School Board opened the Kingsland Road School, and the College was once more free to choose its own line of action.

The idea was then formed of taking up a special district in Bristol, in some one of the overgrown suburban parishes, and supplying a Mission Curate to work among the people. After inquiry, it was ascertained that the parish of St. Barnabas, Ashley Road, was much in need of such help. Its population was about ten thousand, and growing fast; its Church was small; it was ill provided with schools and Nonconformist places of worship; it had the general appearance of much neglect; and there seemed no hope of improvement. Mr. Fuller, of St. Barnabas, did all that man could do, and cordially welcomed the proposal to share with him some of the responsibility.

It was therefore resolved, in 1875, to form a Mission Committee, consisting of Masters, old Cliftonians, and members of the School, to act with the Head-Master, and to devote the whole of the College Chapel offertories to this single object. This was at the time a new plan. It was soon followed by several congregations in Clifton; and since that time nearly all the great Public Schools, and many Colleges at Oxford and Cambridge, have similarly linked themselves to poor districts.

The first Curate appointed was Rev. H. D. Rawnsley. A room or two in a cottage were provided him, and shortly afterwards the upper story of a long wooden carpenter's shed, part of which still exists at the back of St. Agnes' House, Newfoundland Road, near the corner of Nicholas Road.

Mr. Wilson wrote to Mr. Rawnsley in 1886 for some account of the early days of the Mission, and received a long and interesting reply, from which the following extracts may be given:—

The Vicarage, Crosthwaite, Keswick.

DEAR MR. WILSON,

You ask me the impossible. My memories of mission work in Bristol are not of a kind that can well bear being recounted.

But I remember the impressions of the place. Muck-heaps and farm-refuse, on which jerry builders had set up rows of houses, which periodically got flooded, and sucked up fever and death from chill for the poor folk who lodged therein. No lamps. Streets only wadeable through. A few public-houses of the worst sort surrounded a bit of open ground which was called "the gardens," in which were tumble-down low huts of squatters in old time. These dwellers were the pick of the neighbourhood. At one of these huts lived an old sailor who had been to the North, in one of the relief expeditions that took food to those who were searching for Sir John Franklin, and he took to me because I was of kin to the Arctic navigator. He was a man who had been converted when he was a prize-fighter in old days at Hull, and he had become a preacher. I listened to many a sermon by his fireside, and was the better for it. I can see the tears rolling down his face as he told me how fourteen of his crew, after starving in the Northern circle, were rescued by another relief party, and could not restrain themselves, but ate ravenously and died like dogs. The "Ancient Mariner" came before me very really in its pathos, as he spoke.

The work of the Mission lay round the lowest little public-house and an old carpenter's shop.

I say it calmly, that it was a forlorn hope, and that, what with the liquor and the want of noble surroundings, the devil had his own way and the parson was nowhere.

Service on Sunday was much as follows: On arriving there was a free-fight going on outside the public, or the door of the mission-room, among "Mr. Rawnsley's boys," as they were called. Then calling upon them to be gentlemen and let the women go upstairs first, there was a pause, and up bundled the women and the girls who dared face the meeting.

Then, to seats reserved in front close by me, the lambs came up, and just as prayer began a fusillade of stones from outside would rattle all along the wooden walls of our conventicle, and the noise of horses in the stables below added to the din.

In the midst of prayer the door would be knocked at, and the porter would often be overpowered by a strong rush, and fighting would go on below stairs till I appeared, passed up one or two, and sent off the others.

All would go well till in the middle of the hymn, perhaps, cat-calls and whistles sounded outside, and one of my lambs nudged his fellow, and both rising quite courteously, would walk out, saying, "Sorry we got an engagement with a pal, sir. Good night."

Often a man, disguising the fact that he was in liquor, would be in the midst of the mission congregation, and I had to rise from my knees and help to tumble him out, and come back and go on with the prayers as if nothing had happened.

I think that is hard work—very—to fight a man downstairs, and come up and try to be in breath as you go on with sermon or prayer.

The experiment of a Working Men's Club, which Mr. Barnett so generously and genially helped me to set on foot, failed chiefly for want of accommodation, and owing to the fact that we had a weak fellow to be Manager. On three occasions I was summoned because the members of the Club were murdering him.

If only his wife had been Manager instead, things would have been different.

Yet the Club had this about it. Some fine political discussions went on, and some of the mechanic thinking class were made friends by means of it. The Free-thinker came there, too, and he was an interesting being, who gave one nuts to crack.

There was a gathering close by at the Besant and Bradlaugh Hall from time to time. The thing I learned most of this class was its intolerance of men who stuck to old lines of thought, and would not drift from traditional moorings.

Mr. Rawnsley resigned his "Mission Curacy" in January, 1878. He is now Vicar of Crosthwaite, Keswick, and is finding a sphere for his enthusiasm and originality in the work of that large parish, and in developing local minor industries among the people.

In May, 1879, the Rev. R. G. Murchison was appointed as Mission Curate by Mr. Fuller; and he continued to hold this post till he resigned in 1880.

The post was vacant for a time. Mr. Fuller was absent, in ill health, and nothing was done. For month after month an advertisement for a Curate appeared, but few applied, or those who came turned away from such a "forlorn hope."

At last, in December, 1880, the Rev. T. W. Harvey called on Mr. Fuller, and after an interview with Mr. Wilson, decided to take the work.

The service began in a small way. Mr. Harvey writes—

On the first Sunday evening there were four men, six women, and a score of children, gathered by special bills, announcing the arrival of the new parson. A meeting was arranged to talk over the condition of the district. Half a dozen men, visited during the week, promised to meet me in the room. What can be done to brighten up this shop? was our first subject for discussion. "If you will get the paper, I will hang it," said a paper-hanger. "I'm a painter, and will colour the front and windows," said another. "I can carpenter a bit," said a third. On next Sunday the old women did not know the room.

The room was used for Sunday School in the afternoon, and one side being glass, was heated like a greenhouse, so that the children naturally took off their coats. In the evening, with a full congregation, it was suffocating, so that one had to go to the door for breath before beginning the service. What was to be done? Another meeting of the men who came to the services was arranged. It was decided to ask the Head-Master of Clifton College to come down and learn the needs of the congregation, in order to represent them to the Bristol Church Extension Commissioners. In the mean time the district was to be canvassed to learn the feelings of the people. A petition was drawn up, and the men present offered to begin work the next night, visiting every house.

At the third meeting there was a presentation to the Head-Master of a petition forty feet long, signed by twelve hundred adults in the district. Mr. Wilson promised to bring the claims of the district before the Commissioners, and also at once to take steps to build a mission-room, which could be used as a temporary Church. For this purpose he promised £250 as his first donation, and also to preach in the Churches of Clifton in behalf of the fund, and to "see it through." Mr. Fuller undertook to raise what he could in St. Barnabas, and Mr. Harvey in the district itself and from the congregation.

Mr. Wilson collected the required sum, and on January 28, 1882, the foundation-stone of St. Agnes' Mission-Room was laid by Miss Wilson, now Mrs. Harvey, in presence of a vast crowd of people. The name of St. Agnes was chosen by the people themselves for their new district, partly because St. Agnes' Day in our calendar falls so close to January 28, partly, as one of them expressed it, they should like a name new to Bristol, and a "lady saint."

The rooms were opened on May 10, 1882. They consisted of one room 70 feet by 30 feet, and 40 feet high, which was to be used on Sunday for Divine Service and for Sunday School, and on week days for meetings and recreation, and two smaller class-rooms and a kitchen. These rooms now became the centre of the work. Mr. Worthington was Secretary to the Fund. The total expenses were £1948 7s. The architect was the Clifton College architect, Mr. C. Hansom.

On February 16, 1883, the Workmen's Club, 40 feet by 20 feet, in connection with the other buildings, was opened. The cost of this was about £460. It contains a small library, and is of the highest value to the parish.

During this year, our conventional district was constituted as a separate ecclesiastical district; the Bristol Church Extension Commission endowed it with £3000, for which the Ecclesiastical Commissioners grant a stipend to the Incumbent in perpetuity of £150 per annum.

After the Christmas holidays of 1883, the members of the School, in response to a request from the Head-Master, subscribed £360 for a new room, to be called the "games-room." This room is also 40 feet by 20 feet, and is an invaluable adjunct to the Club. It is used for refreshments, and for billiards and other games. On its chimney-piece is the following inscription:—

was given by the Boys of Clifton College, for the use of
The St. Agnes' Workmen's Club.
June, 1884.

In 1884 Mr. Wilson bought two houses in Thomas Street and gave them to the Incumbent of St. Agnes, the rents to serve as a partial endowment for the mission-room. The Church Extension Commission decided that a Church for five hundred persons ought to be built at once, as the mission-room was now inadequate, and made a grant of £485 for the site, and £2500 towards the building. A building committee—with Mr. Wilson as Chairman, Mr. W. E. George as Treasurer, Mr. Harvey as Secretary—was formed to raise the supplementary funds. Mr. W. Wood Bethell was chosen as architect.

During this year Mr. Rashleigh, an old Cliftonian and member of the School-House, worked in the district while reading for ordination. His work was very much valued. He is now working in Manchester.

On June 22, 1885, the day of the Guthrie Commemoration, the memorial stone of St. Agnes' Church was laid by the Bishop of Ripon, Dr. Boyd Carpenter, who had preached the Commemoration sermon.

After long negotiations, early in the same year, Mr. Wilson persuaded the Town Council to purchase the remaining portion of the old Newfoundland Gardens, with the last of the squatters' huts, on condition that he laid them out as a public park. This was done, and the gardener's lodge was built in the spring and summer of 1885.

On March 2, 1886, the Church of St. Agnes was consecrated by the Lord Bishop of the diocese. As the Church is accessible to all members of the School, it is not necessary to give any detailed description. It is a noble Church, of fine proportions and design, and excellent in its materials and workmanship in every detail. A few special gifts made by members of the College may be recorded. The brass lectern bears the initials of H. J. W., H. C. W., and F. M. B.; the gas standards in the chancel were the gift of Mr. Tait; the pulpit, of stone, with glass mosaics in its panels, was given by Mr. Wilson; and the greatest gift of all, the organ, was provided chiefly out of the Chapel offertory. It bears the inscription—

For the praise of God and the joy of His people, this Organ was built by George Johnson,
And was given to the Church of St. Agnes by the Masters and Boys of Clifton College, in July, 1886.

The first Sunday in the new Church was a memorable one. In the morning the preacher was Dr. Warre, the Head-Master of Eton. In the afternoon the whole of Clifton College—Masters and boys—occupied the Church, Dr. Percival being the preacher. In the evening Mr. Wilson preached. This was the first Church built in connection with a Public School Mission, and the interest felt in it by the confraternity of Public Schools was shown by the fact that on successive Sundays in Lent the preachers were the Head-Masters of Uppingham, Haileybury, Marlborough, and the late Head-Master of Harrow.

This year also witnessed the establishment of a temporary gymnasium in the large mission-room, on two evenings in the week.

In March, 1887, the Mission Committee, after full deliberation, purchased a house to be used as an additional mission-room in the poorest quarter of the parish. It had been hired and used for two years by a number of working men connected with the Church, as a means of getting hold of a class that was not directly accessible to the influence either of the Church or of the Club. It bids fair to be an important instrument in the hands of the Vicar.

On April 15 the contract was signed for the completion of the Church tower. The day named for its completion is September 30, precisely twenty-five years from the day on which Clifton College was opened.

There still remains a good deal to be done, if we wish to show to Bristol and to others how a city parish ought to be equipped for its religious and educational and social needs. But if our connection were to terminate now, the College would have left in St. Agnes ineffaceable and honourable memories of itself, and it is on this account that the history of the Mission has been deemed worthy of a place in our Annals.

I wish to express my thanks to the Council for giving me access to their minute-books; to the Secretary for assistance in many particulars; to some of my senior colleagues, and especially the Rev. T. E. Brown, for criticisms, corrections, and some additional information; and to Mr. Moor for the whole of the chapter on the Games of the School.—J. M. W.

CLIFTON COLLEGE REGISTER

After each name in this Register is given (1) House, (2) Form where placed, (3) Form reached, (4) distinctions in work and games won whilst at school, (5) date of leaving, (6) subsequent distinctions, University, Profession, etc.

Change of House is signified thus: Hartnell, School House. Of House-Master not House, thus: Harris-Oakeley. An account of the successive changes of House-Masters will be found in the Preface.

The arrangement of Forms has changed so little that it seems unnecessary to insert here explanations of such hieroglyphics as "Mod. III β ," etc. It may be mentioned that the Remove existed for two or three years from 1880, between the Lower Fifths and Upper Fourths.

APPENDIX.

NOTE TO EDITION OF 1880 ; REWRITTEN IN 1887.

[Thanks to all that has been added since 1880 to our history by the six hundred Clifton boys who in 1880 were still in the College or in one of its junior departments, the original note, accurate when written, has grown quite incorrect ; whence the reader will rightly infer both that the amended note below (though still concerned solely with the boys who came to the School before August, 1880) really chronicles a great part of the subsequent history of the School, and also that the complete statistical harvest of these latter years—in no respect a lean seven years compared with the past—must of necessity wait to be gathered in till the next edition of the Register.]

Of honours that can be won on leaving School or soon after, the following have fallen to the 2600 boys entered in the first edition of this Register, who came to the School between August, 1862, and August, 1880.*

A. 158 Open Scholarships and Exhibitions :—At Oxford 105 (Balliol 20—including, to make up the round number, 2 Snell Exhibitions—Magdalen 13, C. C. C. 8, New 7, Trinity 7, Exeter 6, Christ Church 6, Oriel 5, Queen's 5, Lincoln 5, Brasenose 3, St. John's 3, Worcester 3, Wadham 3, Jesus 3, University 2, Keble 2, Merton 2, Hertford 1, Pembroke 1) ; at Cambridge 53 (Christ's 8, Pembroke 7, St. John's 6, Trinity 5, Corpus 5, Peterhouse 5, Clare 4, Caius 4, Trinity Hall 2, Jesus 2, Emmanuel 2, Sidney Sussex 1, King's 1, St. Catherine's 1).

* The editor would have liked to add an analysis of the subsequent University honours of Cliftonians, but finds that it is too soon to attempt it, even as regards these 2600. Some of them are still at the School, and many have left it but recently. This too, therefore, must stand over till the next edition. Meanwhile, a list of all the honours won up to 1887 will be found at page 74.

- B. 80 admissions to R.M.A., Woolwich ; 30 to R.I.E.C., Cooper's Hill.*
C. 200 admissions to R.M.C., Sandhurst.
D. 23 admissions to Indian Civil Service ; 1 (with first place on list) to Ceylon Civil Service ; 2 to Indian Forest Department ; 1 Foreign Office Dragomanship ; Several Treasury Clerkships and Entrance Scholarships at the great Hospitals and elsewhere.

Nearly all A and D, three-fourths of B, and one-sixth of C,† were won absolutely direct from School ; most of the rest very soon after leaving.

The whole number of these distinctions is rather over 500. So that one such prize is reserved, if there be any virtue in statistics, for one in every five boys who enter the School.

It may interest those who look with disfavour on Public School Athletics, as well as those who, on the other hand, desire to add to some of our public competitive examinations a purely athletic test, to learn that of the 500, 107 had got their caps at football, while 60 were in the (cricket) Eleven, and 50 others had their "twenty-two" colours ; 15 have shot in the Wimbledon Eight ; 6 of them were winners of the Athletic Sports Challenge Cup ; and, subsequently, 7 have played in the Oxford Eleven ; ‡ 1 has rowed in the Oxford boat, and was President of the O.U.B.C. ; 1 was President of the Cambridge Athletic Club ; 10 have played in the Oxford or Cambridge Football Fifteen (3 as Captains), and 5 in the England Fifteen.

It must, however, be remembered that those who go to Woolwich or Cooper's Hill necessarily leave Clifton a year or two sooner than those who are intended for the University; otherwise—since very many of them leave just when they are about to get their caps or colours—their proportion of athletic distinctions would have been much higher.

* Admission to Cooper's Hill was by competition till July, 1880, inclusive.

† Sandhurst was opened to competition in 1871. The limit of age is 20, and therefore many must pass not till after leaving School. Of late (since the establishment of a Sandhurst Class) 25 have passed direct from Clifton.

‡ There have been Cliftonians in each of the nineteen Oxford elevens since 1868, except two ; from 1877 to 1880 as many as four each year ; and five of these elevens have been captained by Cliftonians. More of interest on this head might be added, but—to quote Mr. Andrew Lang—"cricket, though one of the few subjects worthy of a serious writer," is only incidentally the subject of these pages.

The normal proportion, therefore, of intellectual to athletic distinctions may be more accurately computed, when it is found that amongst the 158 winners of Scholarships there were—

CAPS.	XI colours.	XXII colours.	Wimbledon VIII colours.	Winners of Cup.
50	23	17	7	6*

It may be added here that eight of the ten Captains of the School Eleven who have (down to 1887) gone up to the Universities have held Scholarships or Exhibitions at their Colleges; and the same may be said of the three Cliftonians who in 1881 were respectively Captains of Oxford Boating, Cricket, and Football—a somewhat complicated “double event,” perhaps not very frequently paralleled in sporting annals.

The choice of Professions of these same 2600, so far as they have yet chosen, has been nearly as under—

Architecture, Music, Painting, and Sculpture.	Army.	Business.	Church.	Engineering.	Education.	Home Civil Service.	Indian Civil Service.	Law.	Medicine.	Navy and Merchant Service.	Politics and Diplomacy.
20	320	240	100	100	75	10	30	200	75	20	7

A chart showing their “geographical distribution” would need to be a pretty complete map of the world. The table

* In the twenty-one years in which this Cup has been competed for, it has fallen nine times to the Scholars, and only twelve to the rest of the School.

below gives their numbers in "Greater Britain" and elsewhere—

Africa.	Australia and New Zealand.	China, Borneo.	Continent of Europe.	India.	N. America.	S. America.	Turkey and Egypt.	W. Indies.
20	75	10	15	120*	48	12	5	20

The whole number of masters and boys, down to August, 1887, is rather over 3900; so that the School's twenty-fifth birthday, the date of the publication of this book, will have seen the number of our sacred legion almost reach the full 4000.

These things have seemed not unworthy of record, in a book planned, as this has been, chiefly if not solely for Cliftonians. As a musical friend writes, "The notes of the tribal trumpet are of course audible, but they do not grate on one's ear." If the ears of any of the outside world be offended, he must remember this intention of the book, and consider too that we mean this recounting of our short history for other uses than mere ostentatious talk.

"Πλούτῳ τε ἔργου μᾶλλον καιρῷ ἢ λόγου κόμπῳ χρώμεθα."

The editor believes that few who know Clifton will grudge her the quotation. Let its note, less "tribal" perhaps than the motto of the first page, than the volume as a whole, conclude our symphony.
